ARGUMENT

IN the days when Erechtheus ruled over Athens, Apollo wrought violence to the king's young daughter Creusa. And she, having borne a son, left him, by reason of her fear and shame, in the cave wherein the God had humbled her. But Apollo cared for him, and caused the babe to be brought to Delphi, even to his temple. Therein was the child nurtured, and ministered in the courts of the God's house. And in process of time Erechtheus died, and left no son nor daughter save Creusa, and evil days came upon Athens, that she was hard bestead in war. Then Xuthus, a chief of the Achæan folk, fought for her and prevailed against her Euboean enemies, and for guerdon of victory received the princess Creusa to wife, and so became king-consort in Athens. But to these twain was no child born; so, after many years, they journeyed to Delphi to inquire of the oracle of Apollo touching issue. And there the God ordered all things so that the lost was found, and an heir was given to the royal house of Athens. Yet, through the blind haste of mortals, and their little faith, was the son well-nigh slain by the mother, and the mother by the son.

HERMES

ATLAS, whose brazen shoulders wear the base
Of heaven, the ancient home of Gods, begat
Of a certain Goddess<sup>1</sup> Maia, which bare me,
Hermes, heaven's messenger, to Zeus most high.
Now to this Delphian land I come, where Phoebus
Hath at earth's navel his prophetic seat,
Revealing things that are and things to be.

There is a famous city of the Greeks,
Named Burg of Pallas of the Golden Spear.
There Phoebus forced Erechtheus' child Creusa,
Where the north-facing rocks, beneath the Mount
Of Pallas in the Athenian land, are called
The Long Cliffs by the lords of Attica.
Naught knew her sire—for this was Phoebus' will—

10

The burden 'neath her heart; but in due time
She travailed in his halls, and brought the babe
Unto the selfsame cave wherein the God
Had humbled her, and left it there to die
In the fair-rounded hollow of an ark,
Still keeping the tradition of her race
And earth-born Erichthonius, by whom
Zeus' Daughter set for warders of his life
Two serpents, ere to the Agraulid maids

She gave the babe to nurse. For this cause there
The Erechtheids use to hang about their babes
Serpents of gold. Yea, broidery from her robe
She tied to her babe, and left him, as for death.
Then did my brother Phoebus ask me this :
"Go, brother, to the earth-born folk of Athens
The glorious,—for thou know'st Athena's burg,— 30
And from the rock-cleft take a babe new-born,
With cradle and with swaddling-bands withal,
And bear to Delphi, to mine oracle,
And set him at my temple's entering-in.
All else be mine: for this—that thou mayst know,—

Is my son." For a grace to Loxias
My brother, took I up the woven ark,
And bare, and on the basement of this fane
I set him, opening first the cradle's lid
With-woven, that the boy might so be seen. 40

And, as the sun drove forth his chariot, passed
A priestess into the prophetic shrine,
Who, casting eyes upon the wordless babe,
Marvelled that any Delphian maid should dare
Into the God's house fling her child of shame,
And o'er the holy pale in zeal had thrust;
But pity banished cruelty: yea, the God
Wrought that the boy be not cast forth his fane.
So took she him and nursed, nor knew the sire
Was Phoebus, nor the reckling's mother knew; 50
Nor knows the boy who brought him into life.

So did the youngling round the altars sport
That fed him. When to manhood waxed his frame,

The Delphians made him treasurer of the God,
And trusted steward of all; and in the fane

He liveth to this day a hallowed life.
 But she, Creusa, that had borne the lad,
 Was wed to Xuthus, by such hap as this :—
 A surge of war 'twixt Athens rose and them
 That in Euboea hold Chalcidice ; 60
 Then on their side he fought, and smote their foes,
 And for his guerdon won Creusa's hand—
 An alien, yet Achæan born, and son
 Of Aeolus son of Zeus. But, after years
 Of wedlock, childless are they, for which cause
 To this shrine of Apollo have they come,
 Yearning for seed. Now Loxias guides their fate
 Hereto, nor hath forgotten, as might seem.
 He shall give Xuthus, when he entereth,
 His own child, saying to him, " Lo, thy son," 70
 'That the lad, coming home, made known may be Unto Creusa, Loxias' deed abide Unknown, and so the child may have his right.
 And Ion shall he cause him to be called
 Through Greece, the founder of an Asian realm.
 Now to yon hollow bay-embowered I go
 To watch how destiny dealeth with the lad.
 For yonder see I Loxias' child come forth
 To make the temple-portals bright with boughs
 Of bay. And by the name that he shall bear, 80
 Ion, do I first name him of the Gods. [Exit.]

Pass ye, and cleanse with the pure spray-rain

Your bodies, or ever ye enter his fane.

That ye murmur to them whose hearts be stirred 100

And from childhood up,—with the bay's young

And with wreathèd garlands holy, will cleanse

The portals of Phoebus ; with dews from the spring

Will I sprinkle his pavement, and chase far thence

With the shaft from the string

The flocks of the birds : the defilers shall flee

From his offerings holy. Nor mother is mine

Neither father : his temple hath nurtured me, 110

And I serve his shrine.

Lo, lo, this other behold
Who rideth a winged horse, dealing death
To a dragon that vomiteth fiery breath,
A monster of shape threefold.

But O, see there on the marble wall
The battle-rout of the giant horde !

Gleameth in Zeus' far-hurling hand
In resistless rush down-crashing.

CHORUS 8

I see :—upon Mimas his foe is the brand
With its blasting wildfire dashing.

CHORUS 9

And the earth-born there—no battle-wand
Is the ivy-encircled thyrsus-rod
That slays him, of Bromius, Reveller-god.

CHORUS 10 (addressing ION)

Sir,—thou by the fane,—I would speak unto thee :

Prithee say, if with bare feet lawful it is 220
That the threshold we pass of the sanctuary.

ION

Nay, strangers, forfended is this.

CHORUS 11

Yet haply a thing I would learn wouldst thou show?

ION

What is this that thou cravest to know?

CHORUS 11

Is it so, that the walls of Phoebus rise

Even there, where Earth's mid-navel lies?

ION

Yea : and with wreaths is it hung, and watched by the Gorgon-eyes.

CHORUS 12

Ay, rumour hath published it so.

ION

If a cake ye have cast on the forecourt's altar-fire,
And if there be aught that of Phoebus ye fain would inquire,

Draw nigh to the altar-steps : into the inner fane Pass none, but with bloodshed of sheep for the sacrifice slain.

All this understand I aright :

We would trespass on naught by the God's law 230 hidden :

Enough is without for our feast of sight.

CHORUS 14

Our lady had given us leave,—“Upon all
These shrines,” hath she said, “may ye gaze.”

ION

And the servants ye name you of what lord's hall?

CHORUS 15

In Pallas's dwelling-place
Is the mansion of princes that nurtured me;—
But of whom thou inquirest, lo, here is she.

Enter CREUSA.

ION

High birth is thine, and carriage consonant
Thereto, O lady, whosoe'er thou be.
Yea, in a man oft-times may one discern,
Marking his bearing, strain of gentle blood. 240
Ha, thou dost move me strangely!—down-dropt eyes,
And noble cheeks all wet with rain of tears,
At sight of Loxias' pure oracle!
How cam'st thou, lady, 'neath such load of care?
Where all beside, beholding the God's shrines,
Rejoice, a fountain is thine eye of tears.

CREUSA

Stranger, I count it not discourtesy
That thou shouldst marvel touching these my tears.
But, looking on Apollo's dwelling-place,
I traversed o'er an ancient memory's track : 250
Afar my thoughts were, and my body here.
Ah, wrongs of women!—wrongful-reckless deeds
Of Gods! For justice where shall we make suit,
If 'tis our Lords' injustice crushes us?

ION

Lady, for what veiled grief art thou cast down?

The Athenians' city is my fatherland.

ION

O dweller in a glorious burg, and sprung
Of noble sires !—blest I account thee, lady.

CREUSA

Thus far, nor farther, stranger, goes my weal.

ION

Ah, is it true, the legend told to men—

CREUSA

What wouldst thou, stranger, ask? I fain would learn.

ION

CREUSA

Yea, Erichthonius :—me his birth avails not.

ION

And did Athena take him forth the earth?

CREUSA

Yea, in her maiden arms : no mother she. 270

ION

And gave it, as the pictured legend tells—

CREUSA

To Cecrops' daughters to be nursed unseen.

CREUSA

How not?—his is the nation's oracle.

ION

His shame the deed is. Question not of him.

CREUSA

O yea, the sufferer in her lot may pine !

ION

There's none will ask the God of this for thee.
For, in his own halls were he villain proved, 370
Vengeance on him who brought thee that response
Would Phoebus justly wreak. Ah lady, go :
We must not seek his shrine to flout the God.
For lo, what height of folly should we reach
If in the Gods' despite we wrest their will,
By sacrifice of sheep on altars, or
By flight of birds, to tell what they would veil.
Could we of force wring aught from Gods full loth, Profitless blessings, lady, should we grasp ;
But what they give free-willed are boons indeed. 380

CHORUS

Strange chances many on many mortals fall,
And manifold their forms. Ye scarce shall find
One happy lot in all the life of men.

CREUSA

O Phoebus, there and here unjust art thou
Unto the absent one whose plea is here.
Thou shouldst have saved thine own, yet didst not save ;
Nor heeds the Seer the mother's questioning,
That, if her babe live not, his tomb may rise,
Or, if he live, that she may see his face.

Yet must I let this be, if by the God 390
 I am barred from learning that which I desire.
 But, stranger,—for I see my princely lord,
 Xuthus, anigh us yonder, who hath left
 Trophonius' crypt,—of this that we have said
 Speak to my lord naught, lest I get me shame
 For handling secrets, and the tale fall out
 Not after our unravelling thereof.
 For woman's lot as touching men is hard;
 And, since the good are with the bad confused,
 Hated we are :—ill-starred we are from birth. 400
Enter XUTHUS.

XUTHUS

First, to the God the firstfruits of my greetings :
 All hail to him, and hail to thee, my wife.
 Hath my late-lingering thrilled thee with dismay ?

CREUSA

Nay, 'tis but care that meets thee. Tell to me
 What answer from Trophonius bringest thou,
 How we shall have joint issue, thou and I ?

XUTHUS

He took not on him to forestall the word
 Of Phoebus. This he said—nor thou nor I
 Childless shall wend home from the oracle.

CREUSA

Queen, Phoebus' mother, grant our home-return 410
 Prosperous : all our dealings heretofore
 Touching thy son, to happier issue fall !

XUTHUS

This shall be. Who is His interpreter ?

"Tis well: now know I all I sought to know.
I will pass in; for, as I hear it told,
Before the temple hath been slain for strangers
A general victim. I would fain this day— 420
This day fair-omened—gain the God's response.
Thou to the bay-crowned altars bear the boughs,

Why doth this stranger rail upon the God
In riddles of dark sayings evermore? 430
For love of her for whom she seeks the shrine?
Or keeping back a thing she must not speak?
Yet with Erechtheus' daughter what have I
To do? She is naught to me. But I will go
Unto the lavers, with the golden ewers
To pour in water-dews. Yet must I plead
With Phoebus—what ails him? He ravisheth
Maids, and forsakes; begetteth babes by stealth,
And heeds not, though they die. Do thou not so
Being strong, be righteous. For what man soe'er 440
Transgresseth, the Gods visit this on him.

'Tis a treasure whose seals are unbroken, (Ant.)
'Tis a joy that surpasseth the lot
Of the many, when stalwart and tall
Shines fair in a father's hall
The presence of sons, to betoken
A line that shall perish not ;

Sons, that, when death bringeth severance,
Shall receive to pass on to their seed
The wealth that their sires' hands hold : 480
Yea, by these be our sorrows consoled,
And a joy within joy they enfold,
And their spear flasheth light of deliverance
In the hour of the fatherland's need.

CHORUS

Ours too the house's happy fortune is :
Yet fain were I our queen were also blest
With offspring, and Erechtheus' ancient line.

XUTHUS

My son, as touching thy discovery
The God spake sooth, and so joined thee and me. 570
Thou hast found thy dearest, erst to thee unknown.
For thy just yearning, this is also mine,
That thou mayst find thy mother, O my son,
And I, the woman of whose womb thou art.
This shall we find forth haply, left to time.
Now, leave the God's floor, and thine homeless state :
To Athens come, with thine heart even as mine.
There waiteth thee thy father's sceptred bliss,
And much wealth. None shall cast into thy teeth
One of these taunts, base birth or poverty. 580
High-born art thou, a mighty man of wealth.

Silent?—Now wherefore earthward droops thine eye,
And thou art deep in thought, and from thy joy
Art changed, and strikest dread into thy sire?

ION

The face of things appeareth not the same
Far off, and when we scan them nigh at hand.
So do I greet with gladness this my lot
Who find a sire : howbeit hear what burden
Weighs on my soul. The glorious earth-born state,
Athens, men say, hath naught of alien strain. 590
I shall thrust in, stained with a twofold taint—
An outland father, and my bastard self.
And, bearing this reproach, nor strong in friends,
“Nobody” shall be called—“Nobody’s Son.”
Then, if I press to Athens’ highest ranks,
And seek a name, of dullards shall I win
Hatred ; for jealousy ever dogs success.
Good men, whose wisdom well could helm the state,
Who yet hang back, who never speak in public,
To them shall I be laughing-stock and fool,
Who, in a town censorious, go not softly. 600
And statesmen who have made their mark, mid whom

I seek repute, will hedge me in, and check
By the assembly’s votes. ’Tis ever so ;
They which sway nations, and have won repute,
To young ambitions are the bitterest foes.

Then, coming to a strange house, alien I,
And to a childless lady, who hath shared
With thee her sorrow heretofore, but now
Shall bear in bitterness her reproach alone, 610

ION

How shall I not, with reason, have her hate,
When by thy knee I stand, she on thy love
Looketh with bitter eyes of childlessness,—
When thou must cast me off and cleave to her,
Or honour me, and wreck thine household's peace?
How oft the dagger and the deadly bowl
Have women found to slay their lords withal!
Nay, father, more—I pity this thy wife
Who grows grey childless. 'Tis not worthy her,
Sprung from proud sires—this curse of childlessness. 620

And sovranty, so oft, so falsely praised,
Winsome its face is, but behind the veil
Is torment. Who is happy, fortunate who,
That, fearing violence, glancing aye askance,
Weareth out life? Nay, rather would I live
Happy-obscure, than be exalted prince,—
One who must joy to have for friends the vile,
Who hates the good, and ever dreads to die.
“Ah,” thou wilt say, “gold overbears all this,
And wealth is sweet.” Would I clutch lucre—groan 630
Under its load, with curses in mine ears?
Nay, wealth for me in measure, sorrowless.

But, father, hear what blessings here were mine :—
First, leisure, dearest of delights to men :
Friendly the folk ; no villain jostleth me
Out of the path : it galls the very soul
To yield the pass, and vail to baser men.
My life was prayer to Gods, converse with men,
Ministrant unto joy and not to grief,
Welcoming coming, speeding parting guests, 640
A new face smiling still on faces new.
And that which men, though loth, must ask in prayer,

Of this no more : but learn to bear thy fortune. 650
 For, where I found thee, there would I begin,
 By making thee a solemn public feast,
 And thy birth-sacrifice, not offered yet.
 Now to the feast as my guest bringing thee,
 I'll make thee cheer : then to the Athenians' land
 Bring thee as one that travelleth, not as mine.
 For, sooth, I have no heart to vex my wife
 With mine own bliss, while she is childless still.
 And I shall find a time to bring my queen
 To suffer thee to take my sceptred sway.

'Tis sweet to gaze in eyes of sympathy.
Now thine old loving tendance of my sire
I, though thy lady, render back to thee.

OLD SERVANT

My daughter, spirit worthy of noble sires
Thou keepest, and thou hast not put to shame
Thine old forefathers, children of the soil.
Draw, draw me towards the shrines, and bring me on.
Steep is the god-ward path : be thou physician
Unto mine age, and help my toiling limbs. 740

CREUSA

Follow : take heed where thou dost plant thy feet.

OLD SERVANT

Lo there !
Slow is the foot, still by the mind outstripped.

CREUSA

Try with thy staff the ground : lean hard thereon.

OLD SERVANT

Blind guide is this when mine eyes serve so ill.

CREUSA

Sooth said : yet yield not thou to weariness.

OLD SERVANT

I would not, but my lost strength I command not

CREUSA

Women, which do leal service at my loom
And shuttle, show what fortune hath my lord
Found touching issue, for which cause we came.
For, if ye speak good tidings unto me, 750
Your queen shall not forget the debt of joy.

CHORUS

Ah fate !

CHORUS

Ah hapless !

OLD SERVANT (aside)

Ha, sinks mine heart for my lords' oracle !

CHORUS

What shall we do when death is in the path ?

CREUSA

What means this strain, and wherefore is your fear ?

CHORUS

Speech ?—silence ?—what is it that we should do ?

CREUSA

Speak : something ye keep back that toucheth me.

CHORUS

Thou shalt be told,—yea, though I die twice over. 760

'Tis not for thee, my queen, in arms to fold

Children, nor press them ever to thy breast.

CREUSA

Ah wretch !—ah me for my misery !

I have gotten sore hurt, my friends : what is life unto me ?

OLD SERVANT

Undone—thou and I !

O child !

Ah me, ah me ! for the anguish-dart .

Hath pierced me through, and hath plunged deep

Cast forth ! And this I say, as hating not Thy lord, but better loving thee than him,
Who came a stranger to thy burg and home,
Wedded thee, and received thine heritage,
And of another woman gat him sons
Clandestine : this " clandestine " will I prove :—
Knowing thee barren, he was not content
To share thy fortune, to partake thy lot,
But took a slave to his clandestine bed,
Begot this son, from Athens sent him, gave 820
Unto some Delphian's fostering : for concealment
Was he reared in the temple, consecrate.

Then, when he knew the stripling fully grown,
He drew thee hither by the hope of sons.
So, not the God hath lied, but this man lied,
Rearing so long the lad, weaving such plots.
Detected here, he would cast it on the God :
But, safe in Athens, he would set her crown
Upon him, guarding 'gainst the chance of time.
But this new name's misdated forgery ! 830
Ion—set eye on him then first, forsooth !

Yet honest, rather than the craftier villain.

He found an heir. Or, if this liked thee not,
 He ought to have sought a wife of Aeolus' race.
 Now, something worthy of woman must thou do—
 Grasp thou the sword, or by some wiliness
 Or poison slay thine husband and his son,
 Ere treacherous death shall come from them to thee.
 For, if thou flinch, 'tis thou shalt lose thy life :

OLD SERVANT

Who tended thee? . . . alone in trial's hour!

CREUSA

Alone within the cave that saw my rape.

OLD SERVANT

And the boy, where?—that thou no more be childless. 950

CREUSA

Dead is he, ancient,—unto beasts cast out.

OLD SERVANT

Dead?—and Apollo, traitor! helped thee naught?

CREUSA

Helped not. The child is nursed in Hades' halls.

OLD SERVANT

Who cast him forth? Not thou—O never thou!

CREUSA

Even I. My vesture darkling swaddled him.

OLD SERVANT

Nor any knew the exposing of the child?

CREUSA

None—Misery and Secrecy alone.

OLD SERVANT

How couldst thou leave thy babe within the cave?

CREUSA

Ah how?—O pitiful farewells I moaned!

OLD SERVANT

Poor heart of steel!—O God's heart harder yet! 960

CREUSA

Ah, hadst thou seen the babe's hands stretched to me!

OLD SERVANT

Seeking the breast, the cradle of thine arms?

CREUSA

That the God yet would save him—his own child.

OLD SERVANT

Ah me, what tempest wrecks thine house's weal!

CREUSA

Why dost thou, ancient, veil thine head, and weep?

OLD SERVANT

Seeing calamity, thy sire's and thine.

CREUSA

'Tis man's lot: naught continueth at one stay.

OLD SERVANT

Cling we no more to wailings, daughter, now.

97

CREUSA

What must I do?—so helpless misery is.

OLD SERVANT

Avenge thee on the God who wronged thee first.

CREUSA

How?—I, a mortal, triumph o'er the strong?

OLD SERVANT

Set thou the torch to Loxias' holy shrine.

CREUSA

OLD SERVANT

Then dare the thing thou canst: thine husband slay.

CREUSA

OLD SERVANT

CREUSA

Of Gods named, from her battle-eager charge.

OLD SERVANT

What was the fashion of its grisly form ?

CREUSA

OLD SERVANT

But, daughter, how shall this thing harm thy foes ?

CREUSA

Knowest thou Erichthonius ?—thou must.

OLD SERVANT

First father of your line, whom earth brought forth ? 1000

OLD SERVANT

What ?—thy word falters in the utterance.

CREUSA

Two drops of blood—of that same Gorgon's blood.

OLD SERVANT

What power have they upon the life of man ?

CREUSA

For death one, one for healing of disease.

OLD SERVANT

And hung them on the child—wherein enclosed ?

CREUSA

A golden clasp. He gave it to my sire.

OLD SERVANT

And, when Erechtheus died, to thee it passed ?

CREUSA

Yea ; and I bear it ever on my wrist.

And, in the banquet's pause, when men will pour
Wine to the Gods, this have thou 'neath thy cloak,
And swiftly drop into the stripling's cup,—
That for his drinking, not the general bowl,—
Even his who seeks to lord it o'er mine house.
If once it pass his lips, ne'er shall he come
To glorious Athens : here shall he stay—dead.

OLD SERVANT

Unto thine host's house now withdraw thy foot ;
And I through mine appointed task will toil. 1040
Come, aged foot, for deeds must thou grow young,
Though this be not by time vouchsafed to thee.
On, with thy mistress on, against the foe !
Help her to slay and cast him forth her home.
Fair faith ?—O yea, fair faith for fortune fair :
But, when ye would wreak vengeance on your foes,
There is no law that lieth in the path.

Soon as Creusa's lord had left the fane
Of Phoebus, taking his new son with him
For that thanksgiving-feast and sacrifice,
Xuthus went up to where the Wine-god's fire
Leaps heavenward, to make wet with victims' blood
Dionysus' twin rocks for the son new-found ;
And spake, " Abide now, son, and set thou up
A wide-embracing tent by craftsmen's toil.
If, sacrificing to the Birth-gods, long
I tarry, feast thy friends assembled there." 1130

So took the calves and went. And now the youth
The unwall'd pavilion's compass solemnly
With tall masts reared, with good heed lest the sun
Should dart therein his shafts of midnoon-flame,
Or the slant javelin-gleams of dying day.
A hundred feet he meted out foursquare,—
Having for compass of its space within Ten thousand, as the cunning craftsmen say,—
As bidding to the feast all Delphi's folk. 1140
With sacred tapestries from the treasures
He screened it, marvellous for men to see.
First with a canopy of shawls he ceiled it,
The offering of Zeus' son, which Hercules
Brought to the God, the Amazonian spoils.

Therein were webs of woven blazonry :—
Heaven shepherding his stars in folds of air :
His steeds the Sun drave to their goal of fire,
After him drawing the bright Evening Star.
And sable-vestured Night with team of twain 1150
Upfloated ; and the stars companioned her.
The Pleiad swam her mid-sky path along,

And sword-begirt Orion ; and, above, [sphere.
 The Bear's tail wheeled around the gold-gemmed
 The Moon's full circle of the parted month
 Shot silver shafts : the Hyads, surest sign
 To shipmen ; and the Light-uplifter, Dawn,
 Chasing the star-rout. And upon the walls
 Draped he yet other orient tapestries :
 Galleys with oars that charged on ships of Greece, 1160
 Monsters half-brute, steeds flying in the chase,
 Huntings of stags and lions of the wold.
 At the doors Cecrops coiling spire on spire
 Amidst his daughters—some Athenian's gift
 Of worship. In the banquet's midst he set
 The golden bowls. Forth stately pacing then
 A herald cried, "What Delphian will soe'er, Come to the feast!" And when the tent was thronged,
 With garlands crowned they satisfied their souls
 With plenteous meat. And when they would no more, 1170
 An old man entered in, and in their midst
 Stood, and his busy zeal oft stirred to mirth
 The banqueters. He drew from drinking-ewers
 Water for cleansing hands ; for incense burnt
 Balsam of myrrh, and of the golden cups
 Took charge—yea, laid this office on himself.
 But when the flutes 'gan play, and mazer-bowls
 Were mixed, the greybeard spake, "Take hence forthright
 'These tiny wine-cups—ample beakers bring,
 'That my lords' hearts the sooner may be merry." 1180
 Then toiled we bearing goblets silver-chased
 And golden ; and he took a chosen one,
 As rendering worship to his new-made lord,

And gave the chalice brimmed, first casting in
The drug death-working, which our mistress gave,
Men say, that her new son might leave the light.
None marked ;—but as the god-discovered heir
Raised with the rest the God's cup in his hand,
He heard some servant speak a word unmeet.
He, temple-reared, perfect in bodement-lore, 1190
Held it for ominous, bade fill up with wine
Another bowl ; that first drink-offering
He cast to earth, and bade all do the like.
Then fell a hush. With water brimmed we up
And Bybline wine the sacred mixing-bowls.

Then midst our toils a flight of doves dropt down
In the pavilion ; for in Loxias' halls Unfrayed they dwell, and when men spilled the wine,
The thirsty innocents dipped their beaks therein, 1200
And drew it down their dainty-feathered throats.
And none the God's libation harmed—save one,
Which lighted where the new heir spilled the wine.
She sipped the drink—her dainty-feathered frame
Quivered and staggered : an unmeaning scream <sup>1</sup>
She shrilled of anguish · marvelled all the throng
Of banqueters to see her agonies.
One fierce convulsion—the pink claws uncramped ;
And she was dead. That child of prophecy
Bared of his cloak his limbs, leapt o'er the board,
Shouting “ Who goeth about to murder me ? 1210
Old man, declare !—thine was the eager zeal,—
Yea, from thine hand did I receive the cup ! ”
He clutched his withered arm, he searched him o'er
To take the ancient in the very fact.

Detected, tortured, scarce even then he told
 Creusa's desperate deed, the poison-plot.
 Straightway, the feasters with him, hurries forth
 The stripling given by Loxias' oracle,
 Before the Pythian nobles stands, and cries,
 "O hallowed land, by poison is my death 1220
 Sought of Erechtheus' child, the alien dame!"
 Then Delphi's lords by general vote decreed
 That from the precipice hurled my queen should die,
 As compassing a priest's death, planning murder
 Within the precinct. All the city seeks her
 Who sped on wretched mission wretchedly.
 Drawn by desire of babes to Phoebus' fane,
 She hath lost her life and children therewithal.

CHORUS

There is no hiding-place from death for me,
 None: woe is me, it is the end! 1230
 All is laid bare for all men's eyes to see—
 The cup, the murder-blend
 Of gout's of viper-blood swift for life's quelling,
 Mid Bacchus' clusters shed;
 Drink-offering—yea, to them in darkness dwelling,
 Gods of the dead.

Ruin is my life's portion—ah, her doom!
 Stones raining death upon my queen!
 Oh had I wings, or could but plunge to gloom
 Under the earth, to screen
 Mine head from horror of the stones down-beating!
 Oh, borne on four-horsed car, 1240
 To hear the hurrying hoofs!—to see waves fleeting Astern afar!

There is no hope,—except a God befriending
 Should snatch us from men's sight.

For mortals, statutes not in wisdom framed !

Never should crime have altar-sanctuary,
But hounding thence. Unmeet it is that hands
Sin-stained should touch the Gods: but righteous men,
Whoso is wronged, should claim their sanctuary,
And not the good and evil come alike
Hither to win the same boon of the Gods.

Enter the PYTHIA, bearing a cradle, the contents of which are concealed by a wrapping which partially envelopes it.

PYTHIA

Forbear, my son. The seat of prophecy 1320
I leave, and step across this temple-fence,
Priestess of Phoebus, chosen of Delphi's daughters
To guard his tripod's immemorial use.

ION

Hail, dear my mother, though thou didst not bear me.

PYTHIA

So was I called; nor did the name mislike me.

ION

Hast heard of yonder woman's plot to slay me?

PYTHIA

I heard: yet is thy ruthlessness all wrong.

ION

Shall I not pay death-wage to murderers?

PYTHIA

Yea, I withal of stepdames have foul wrong. 1330

Take them—rest not until thou find thy mother.

ION

How?—search all Asia through, search Europe's bounds?

PYTHIA

Thou shalt not err, thou. For the God's own sake
I nursed thee, boy: these give I back to thee,
Which his unspoken will then made me take
And guard. Why thus he willed I cannot tell: 1360
But none of mortal men was ware that I
Had these, nor hidden in what place they lay.
Farewell . . . for as a mother kiss I thee.

Turns to go, but resumes—

Where thou shouldst seek thy mother, there begin—
First, did a Delphian bride unwedded bear
And cast thee forth upon these temple-steps?
Then, any maid of Greece? . . . So hast thou all
Of me, and Phoebus, partner in thy fortune. [Exit.]

ION

Ah me, mine eyes are drowned in streaming tears,
As leaps my thought to that day when the bride 1370
Betrayed, who bare, by stealth to thralldom sold me,
Nor ever suckled me : but nameless all
In the God's court I lived a servant's life.
Kind was the God's part, but my fortune's hand
Heavy ; for while I should of right have lain
Soft in a mother's arms, and known life's joy,
Of a sweet mother's care was I bereft.

O hapless she who bare me, who hath suffered
Like me, hath lost the joys of motherhood !
But this ark will I bear unto the God, 1380
An offering—lest I find aught I would not.
For, if perchance a slave-girl gave me birth,
'Twere worse to find a mother than let be.
Phoebus, I offer this unto thy fane . . .
What ails me ? Lo, I fight against the favour
Of Him who saved for me my mother's tokens !
This must I open, face what must be faced ;
For never can I overstep my doom.

Ah, sacred fillets, what have ye hid for me,
O bands wherein mine heart's desire was kept ? 1390
Lo, the enwrapping of the ark's fair curve,
How by a miracle it waxed not old ;
The osier-plaitings mouldless !—yet long time
Since then hath o'er these treasure-relics passed.

CREUSA

CREUSA

And the months swept round, till the tenth month came,

And I bare unto Phoebus a child of shame.

ION

O happy words, if this thou say'st be true '

CREUSA

And these, these mother's swathing-bands

About thee cast, my maiden hands

1490

Wrought, my loom's skill-less fashionings.

Not to thy lips for suck I gave

The breast, nor with mine hands did lave ;

But forth into a lonesome cave,

A banquet-spoil for swooping wings,

To Hades thee thy mother flings.

ION

O mother, what horror to do, to dare !

CREUSA

I was thrall unto terror—I flung away

Thy life, my baby : I steeled me to slay,

When mine heart was moaning " Spare ! "

ION

And of me nigh slain !—foul horror it were !

CREUSA

O fearful chances of that dark day,

And of this withal ! We are tossed to drift

On the surge of calamity hither and thither :

Yet anon do the winds of heaven shift,

And behold, we are gliding through summer weather ! [suffice.

Oh may it last !—for the ills overpast should surely

Fair winds, my son, now are wafting us on, after stormy skies.

CHORUS

Let none e'er deem aught in the lot of man
Past hope, who marketh what to-day befalls. 1510

ION

O Fortune, thou that shiftest countless mortals
Unto misfortune, and anon to weal,
How nearly to this pass we came, that I
Should slay my mother, should of her be slain !
Ah strange !

Yet—midst the bright embraces of the sun
Somewhere do such things day by day befall ?
Sweet, mother, is my treasure-trove of thee ;
And this my birth, I find no fault therein.

Yet somewhat would I say to thee apart. 1520
Come hither : I would speak it in thine ear,
And fold about with darkness that thy past.
See to it, mother, lest thy steps have slipped,
As maids infatuate yield to love—to shame,
And upon Phoebus now thou chargest this,
And, striving to escape the shame of me,
Dost name the God my sire, who sire was none.

CREUSA

No !—by Athena, Lady of Victory, who
At Zeus' side chariot-borne with Giants fought,
No mortal man was sire to thee, my son, 1530
But he which reared thee, Loxias the King.

ION

How gave he then his own son to another,
And named me Xuthus' true-begotten son ?

CREUSA

Nay, not begotten ; but his gift art thou,
Sprung from himself,—as friend to friend should give
His own son, that his house might have an heir.

Is the God true?—or doth his oracle lie?
Mother, my soul it troubleth : well it may.

CREUSA

Hear now what cometh to my mind, my son ;
Of kindness Loxias giveth thee a place 1540
In a proud house : hadst thou been called his son,
Thou hadst had none inheritance thereof,
Nor a sire's name :—how couldst thou, when myself
Still hid his rape, yea, by thy secret death?
Thee for thy good to another sire he gives.

ION

Nay, not thus lightly on the quest I press.
I will ask Phoebus, entering his fane,
“ Am I of Loxias, or a mortal sire ? ”

One tribe, of my shield named Aegicores.
And their sons in the fulness of the time
Shall found them cities in the Cyclad Isles,
And seaboard realms, for strength unto my land.
Yea, they shall people either mainland's plains
On either side the strait, of Asia-land
And Europe : and because of thy son's name
Ionians shall be named, and win renown.

From Xuthus too and thee a seed shall spring,
Dorus, of whom shall Doris song-renowned 1590

Achaeus ; o'er the seaboard shall he reign
Nigh Rhion, and the people of his name
Among the nations shall be sealed therewith.
Well hath Apollo all things done : for, first,

HIPPOLYTUS

ARGUMENT

HIPPOLYTA, Queen of the Amazons, bore to Theseus, king of Athens and Troezen, a son whom he named from her, Hippolytus. Now this youth grew up of all men most pure in heart, reverencing chiefly Artemis the Maiden, Goddess of the Chase, and utterly contemning the worship of Aphrodite. Wherefore the wrath of the Queen of Love was kindled against him, and she made Phaedra, his father's young wife, mad with love for him ; and although she wrestled with her malady, and strove to hide it in her heart, till by the fever of it she was brought nigh to death's door, yet in the end it was revealed, and was made destruction to her and to Hippolytus also.

APHRODITE

Mighty on earth, mighty in heaven, am I
Cypris the Goddess named, a glorious name.
And of all dwellers 'twixt the Pontic Sea
And Atlas' bourn, which look on the sun's light,
I honour them which reverence my power,
But bring the proud hearts that defy me low.
For even to the Gods this appertains,
That in the homage of mankind they joy.
And I will give swift proof of these my words :
For Theseus' son, born of the Amazon, 10
Hippolytus, pure-hearted Pittheus' ward,
Sole mid the folk of this Troezenian land
Sayeth that vilest of the Gods am I ;
Rejects the couch ; of marriage will he none,
But honours Phoebus' sister Artemis,
Zeus' child, and counts her greatest of the Gods ;
And through the greenwood in the Maid's train still
With swift bounds sweeps the wild beasts from the earth
Linked with companionship too high for man. 20
Yet this I grudge not : what is this to me ?
But his defiance of me will I avenge
Upon Hippolytus this day : the path
Well-nigh is cleared ; scant pains it needeth yet.

HIPPOLYTUS

For, as from halls of Pittheus once he sought
Pandion's land, to see and to be sealed
In the Great Mysteries, Phaedra, high-born wife
Of his own father, saw him ; and her heart
In fierce love was enthralled by my device.

She, ere she came to this Troezenian land,
Hard by the Rock of Pallas, which looks down 30
On this land, built to me a shrine, for love
Of one afar ; and for Hippolytus' sake
She named it " Love Fast-anchored," for all time.
But since from Cecrops' land forth Theseus passed,
Fleeing the blood-guilt of the sons of Pallas,
And unto this shore with his wife hath sailed,
Submitting unto exile for one year,
Thenceforward, sighing and by stings of love
Distraught, the hapless one wastes down to death
Silent : her malady no handmaid knows. 40
Ah, but not so shall this love's issue fall.
Theseus shall know this thing ; all bared shall be :
And him that is my foe his sire shall slay
By curses, whose fulfilment the Sea-king
Poseidon gave to Theseus in this boon—
To ask three things of him, nor pray in vain.
And she shall die—O yea, her name unstained,
Yet Phaedra dies : I will not so regard
Her pain, as not to visit on my foes
Such penalty as is mine honour's due. 50

But,—forasmuch as Theseus' son I see
Yonder draw near, forsaking hunting's toil,
Hippolytus,—forth will I from this place.
Ha, a great press of henchmen following shout,
Honouring with songs the Goddess Artemis !

HIPPOLYTUS

Follow on, follow on, ring out the lay
Unto Artemis high enthroned in the sky, 60
Zeus' child, in her keeping who hath us aye.

CHORUS OF HUNSMEN

O Majesty, Daughter of Zeus, dread Queen,
I hail thee, Artemis, now,
O Leto's Daughter, O Zeus's child,
Loveliest far of the Undeiled !
In that great Home of the Mighty Father,
The palace of Zeus, mid the glory-sheen
Of gold—there dwellest thou.
O Fairest, to theeward in greeting I call, 70
Artemis, fairest of Maidens that gather
In Olympus' hall !

HIPPOLYTUS

For thee this woven garland from a mead
Unsullied have I twined, O Queen, and bring.
There never shepherd dares to feed his flock,
Nor steel of sickle came : only the bee
Roveth the springtide mead undesecrate :
And Reverence watereth it with river-dews.
They which have heritage of self-control
In all things, purity inborn, untaught, 80
These there may gather flowers, but none impure.
Now Queen, dear Queen, receive this anadem
From reverent hand to deck thy golden hair ;
For to me sole of men this grace is given,
That I be with thee, converse hold with thee,

Hath one in his halls beguiled,
 That thy couch is in secret defiled ?
 Or hath some sea-trafficker, speeding
 From Crete over watery ways
 To the haven where shipmen would be,
 Brought dolorous tidings to thee
 That hath bowed thee with anguish exceeding
 On thy bed through thy soul's prison-days 160
 (Epode)

Or shall this be the discord mournful, weirdly haunting, [of woman's being ?
 That ofttimes jarreth and jangleth the strings
 'Tis the shadow of travail-throes nigh, a delirium spirit-daunting : [have felt it shiver :
 Yea, I have known it, through mine own bosom
 But I cried to the Queen of the Bow, to the Helper in travail-throe for refuge fleeing ;
 And by grace of the Gods she hearkeneth ever my fervent request, she is there to deliver.

But lo, through the doors where cometh the grey- 170 haired nurse

Leading the stricken one forth of her bowers :
 On her brows aye darker the care-cloud lowers.
 My spirit is yearning to know what is this strange curse,

Wherefore the queen's cheek ever is paling,
 And her strength is failing.

Yet aback to thy bowers wilt thou fret to be gone.
Thou art soon disappointed, thou joyest in naught,
What thou hast cannot please thee ; a thing far-sought

Thy fancy hath caught.

Better be sick than tend the sick :
Here is but one pain ; grief of mind
And toil of hands be there combined.
O'er all man's life woes gather thick ;

190

Ne'er from its travail respite is.
If better life beyond be found,
The darkness veils, clouds wrap it round ;
Therefore infatuate-fond to this

Naught know we of the life to come,
There speak no voices from the tomb :
We drift on fable's shadowy stream.

What speech in thy frenzy outflingest thou ?
The mountain-ward path then fain hadst thou taken
On the track of the beasts : and thou yearnest now
For the steeds on the sea-sands wave-forsaken !
Of a surety the lore of a seer we lack
To tell what God, child, reineth thee back,
And scourgeth thy spirit from reason's track.

PHAEDRA

O hapless I—what is this I have done ?
Whitherward have I wandered from wisdom's way ? 240
I was mad, by a God's curse overthrown.
Oh ill-starred—well-a-day !
Dear Nurse, veil over mine head once more ;
For I blush for the words from my lips that came.
Veil me : the tears from mine eyes down pour,
And mine eyelids sink for shame.
For anguish wakes when re-dawneth the mind :
Though a curse be madness, herein is it kind,
That the soul that it ruins it striketh blind.

NURSE

I veil thee :—ah that death would veil 250
Me too !—with many a lesson stern
The years have brought, this too I learn—
Be links of mortal friendship frail !

Let heart-strings ne'er together cling,
Nor be indissolubly twined
The chords of love, but lightly joined
For knitting close or severing.

Ah weary burden, where one soul
Travails for twain, as mine for thee ! 260

Ruin, not bliss, say they, shall be Care's life-absorbing heart-control.

Yea, that way sickness, madness, lies.
Therefore "the overmuch" shall be
Less than "the naught-too-much" for me :
So say I : so shall say the wise.

CHORUS

Thou grey-haired dame, queen Phaedra's loyal nurse,
In sooth I mark her lamentable plight,
Yet what her malady, to us is dark.
Fain would we question thee and hear thereof. 270

NURSE

I know not, though I ask : she will not tell.

CHORUS

Nor what was the beginning of these woes ?

NURSE

The same thy goal : naught sayeth she of all.

CHORUS

How strengthless and how wasted is her frame !

NURSE

No marvel, being three days foodless now.

CHORUS

Madness is this, or set resolve to die ?

NURSE

To die : she fasteth to make end of life.

CHORUS

Strange is thy tale, if this content her lord.

NURSE

Nay, but she hides her pain, nor owns she ails.

CHORUS

Should he not guess ?—one glance upon her face ? 280

HIPPOLYTUS

NURSE

Nay, absent is he from this land of late.

CHORUS

But thou—dost not constrain her, strive to learn
Her malady and wandering of her wit?

NURSE

All have I tried, and naught the more availed.
Yet will I not even now abate my zeal :
So stand thou by and witness unto me
How true am I to mine afflicted lords.

Come, darling child, the words said heretofore
Forget we both ; more gracious-souled be thou :
Thy lowering brow, thy wayward mood, put by ; 290
And I, wherein I erred in following thee,
Refrain, and unto wiser counsels seek.
If thy disease be that thou mayst not name,
Lo women here to allay thy malady.
But if to men thy trouble may be told,
Speak, that to leeches this may be declared.
Ha, silent?—silence, child, beseems thee not.
Or thou shouldst chide me if I speak not well,
Or unto pleadings wisely uttered yield.
One word !—look hitherward ! . . . ah, woe is me ! 300
Women, we toil and spend our strength for naught,
And still are far as ever : of my words
Unmelted was she then, nor hearkeneth now.

Howbeit know thou—then be waywarder
Than is the sea,—thy death shall but betray
Thy sons, who shall not share their father's halls—
No, by that chariot-queen, the Amazon,
Who bare to thy sons a bastard over-lord,—
Not bastard-thoughted,—well thou knowest him,
Hippolytus—

Of life by death ! Farewell, I am no more.

O may I die, ah me ! ere I know,

Dear lady, a spirit as thine so darkened.

O misery-burdened, O whelmed in woe !

O troubles that cradle the children of men !

Undone !—all's bared to the daylight's ken.

Ah, weariful season for thee remaining !

Dark looms o'er the household the shadow of doom. 370

Plain now where the star of thy love is waning,

O hapless daughter of Crete's proud home !

PHAEDRA

Troezenian women, ye which here abide

Upon the utmost march of Pelops' land,

Oft sleepless in the weary-wearing night

Have I mused how the life of men is wrecked.

They fare so ill,—discretion dwells at least

With many,—but we thus must look hereon :

That which is good we learn and recognise,

HIPPOLYTUS

Yet practise not the lesson, some from sloth,
And some preferring pleasure in the stead
Of duty. Pleasures many of life there be;
Long gossip, idlesse,—pleasant evils they;
And sense of shame—twofold: no ill the one,
But one bows homes to ruin. Were men's choice clear,

These twain had never borne the selfsame names.

Forasmuch then as I knew this before,
No philtre-spell was like to change mine heart
To make me fall away from this my faith. 390
Thee will I tell the path my reason trod;—
When love's wound smote me, straight I cast about
How best to bear it: wherefore I began
Thenceforth to hush my moan, to veil my pang.
For the tongue none may trust, which knoweth well
To lesson rebel thoughts of other men,
Yet harboureth countless evils of its own.
Then did I take thought nobly to endure
My folly, triumphing by self-control.

Lastly, when even so I naught availed 400
To o'ermaster Love's Queen, I resolved to die
As of all counsels best—let none gainsay!
For be it mine to do not good unseen,
Nor ill before a cloud of witnesses.
I knew the deed, the very pang, was shame.
Well knew I too what 'tis to be a woman—
None trust, none love us! Curses upon her
Who showed the way the first to shame the couch
With alien men! Ah, 'twas from princely homes
That first this curse on womankind had birth. 410
For, when the noble count their shame their good,
The lowly sure will hold it honourable.

And O, I hate the continent-professed
Which treasure secret recklessness of shame.
How can they, O Queen Cypris, Sea-born One,
Look ever in the faces of their lords,
Nor shudder lest their dark accomplice, night,
And their own bowers may utter forth a voice?

Me—friends, 'tis even this dooms me to die,
That never I be found to shame my lord, 420
Nor the sons whom I bare : but free, with tongues
Unfettered, flourish they, their home yon burg
Of glorious Athens, blushing ne'er for me.
For this cows man, how stout of heart soe'er,
To know a father's or a mother's sin.
And this alone can breast the shocks of life,
An honest heart and good, in whomso found :
But in his hour Time lifts his mirror, and shows
The vile his vileness there, as a girl sees
Her face. With such may I be never found. 430

CHORUS

Lo now, how fair is virtue everywhere,
Which yieldeth fruit of good repute mid men !

NURSE

Queen, thine affliction, suddenly revealed
But now, wrought in me terrible dismay.
Yet I discern my folly now. 'Tis strange
How second thoughts for men are wisest still.
Thine is the common lot, not past cool weighing :
The Goddess's passion-bolts have smitten thee.
Thou lov'st—what marvel this?—thou art as many—
And lo, for love's sake wouldst fling life away ! 440
Sooth, 'twere small gain for them which love their fellows,
Or yet shall love, if help be none save death.

HIPPOLYTUS

For Cypris crusheth, swooping in her might ;
Yet gently stealeth she on whoso yield.
But whom she findeth wayward, arrogant-souled,
She graspeth, mocketh, past imagining.
Through air she roveth, in the ocean-surge
Is Cypris ; all things have their birth of her.
'Tis she that sows love, gives increase thereof.
Whereof all we that dwell on earth are sprung. 450

Whoso have scrolls writ in the ancient days,
And wander still themselves by paths of song,
They know how Zeus of yore desired the embrace
Of Semele ; they know how radiant Dawn
Up to the Gods snatched Cephalus of yore,
And all for love ; yet these in Heaven their home
Dwell, neither do they flee the face of Gods,
Content, I trow, to be love's vanquished ones

Thou—wilt not yield ? Thy sire by several treaty
Thee should have gotten, or with other Gods 460
For lords, if thou wilt bow not to these laws.
How many men, think'st thou, and wise men they,
Knowing their beds dishonoured, shut their eyes ?
How many a father in his son's transgression
Playeth love's go-between ?—the maxim this
Of wise men, that dishonour be not seen.
Why should men toil to over-perfect life ?
Lo, even thine hall's roof-beams the craftsman's rule
Can make not utter-true. How thinkest thou,
Who art plunged in fate's deep sea, to swim to land ? 470
Tush—if more good than evil is in thee,
Who art but human, thou shalt do full well.

ἀλλ', ὦ φίλη παῖ, λήγε μὲν κακῶν φρενῶν,

HIPPOLYTUS

Nay, darling, from thy deadly thoughts refrain,
And from presumption—sheer presumption this,
That one should wish to be more strong than Gods.
In love, flinch not; a God hath willed this thing.
In pain, victorious wrestle with thy pain.
Lo, charms there be, and words of soothing spell.
Some cure for this affliction shall appear.
Sooth, it were long ere men would light thereon, 480
Except we women find devices forth.

CHORUS

Phaedra, she speaketh words that more avail
For this thine imminent plight: yet thee I praise.
But haply this my praise shall gall thee more
Than those her words, and harsher sound to thee.

PHAEDRA

This is it which doth ruin goodly towns
And homes of men, these speeches over-fair.
It needeth not to speak words sweet to ears,
But those whereby a good name shall be saved.

NURSE

Out on thine high-flown talk! No fair-tricked 490 speech
Will stead thee, but a lover!—'tis high time
To strip disguise off, speak plain truth of thee.
For, were thy life not in such desperate case,
Or thou a woman strong in self-control,
Never for thy lust's sake and pleasure I
To this would bring thee: but we must fight hard
Now for thy life, and void of blame is this.

PHAEDRA

Speaker of horrors!—wilt not seal thy lips?
Wilt not refrain from utter-shameful words?

Shameful—yet better than the good for thee. 500
Better this deed, so it but save thy life,
Than that name, whose proud vaunt shall be thy death.

PHAEDRA

No, by the Gods!—foul words are thy fair words!—
No farther go: I have schooled mine heart to endure
This love: but if thou plead shame's cause so fair,
I shall be trapped in that sin which I flee.

NURSE

If such thy mind, thine heart should not have sinned:
But now—obey me:—'tis the one hope left:—
I have within some certain charms to assuage
Love: 'twas but now they came into my thought. 510
These, not with shame, nor hurt unto thy mind,
Shall lull thy pang, so thou be not faint-hearted.
Howbeit there needs of him thou yearnest for
Some token, or a word, or fragment caught
From vesture, so to knit two loves in one.

PHAEDRA

A salve, or potion, is this charm of thine?

NURSE

I know not: be content with help, not knowledge.

PHAEDRA

I fear lest over-cunning thou shalt prove.

O Eros, O Eros, how melts love's yearning (Str. 1)
From thine eyes, when thy sweet spell witcheth

Of them against whom thou hast marched in
Not me, not me for mine hurt do thou smite,

My life's heart-music to discord turning.

For never so hotly the flame-spears dart,

Nor so fleet are the star-shot arrows of light,

Of Hellas the blood of her oxen outpoured.

But Eros, but Love, who is all men's lord,

Unto whom Aphrodite is wont to deliver

Her keys, that the doors be unsealed by his hand 540

Of her holy of holies, we have not adored,

Though he marcheth through ruin victory-ward,

Though he raineth calamity forth of his quiver

On mortals against his on-coming that stand.

HIPPOLYTUS

NURSE

Forgive, son : men are men, they needs must err.

HIPPOLYTUS

Why hast thou given a home beneath the sun,
Zeus, unto woman, specious curse to man ?
For, were thy will to raise a mortal seed,
This ought they not of women to have gotten,
But in thy temples should they lay its price, 620
Or gold, or iron, or a weight of bronze,
And so buy seed of children, every man
After the worth of that his gift, and dwell
Free in free homes unvexed of womankind.

But now -- soon as we go about to bring
This bane to the home, we hurl to earth its weal.
Hereby is woman proved a grievous curse—
He, who begat and reared her, banishes,
Yea, adds a dower, to rid him of his bane ;
While he which taketh home the noisome weed 630
Rejoices, decks with goodly bravery
The loathly image, and tricks out with robes,—
Filching away, poor wretch ! his household's wealth.
He may not choose : who getteth noble kin
With her, content must stomach his sour feast :
Who getteth a good wife, but worthless kin,
Must muffle up the evil 'neath the good.

Happiest who wins a cipher, in whose halls
A brainless thing is throned in uselessness.
But the keen-witted hate I : in mine house 640
Ne'er dwell one subtler than is woman's due ;
For Cypris better brings to birth her mischief
In clever women : the resourceless 'scapes

HIPPOLYTUS

That folly by the short-weight of her wit.

Handmaids should ne'er have had access to wives,
But brutes, with teeth, no tongue, should dwell
with them,

That so they might not speak to any one,
Nor win an answering word from such as these.
But now the vile ones weave vile plots within,
And out of doors their handmaids bear the web : 650
As thou hast come, foul quean, to tender me
Commerce in mine own father's sacred couch !—
Words that with fountain-streams I'll wash away,
Sluicing mine ears. How should I be so vile,
Who even with hearing count myself defiled ?
Woman, I fear God : know, that saveth thee.
For, had I not by oaths been trapped unwares,
I had ne'er forborne to tell this to my sire.
Now from mine home, while Theseus yet is far,
I go, and I will keep my lips from speech. 660
But—with my father I return, to see
How thou wilt meet his eye, thou and thy mistress,
And so have taste of thy full shamelessness.

Curse ye ! My woman-hate shall ne'er be sated,
Not though one say that this is all my theme :
For they be ever strangely steeped in sin.
Let some one now stand forth and prove them
chaste,
Or leave me free to trample on them ever. [Exit.

CHORUS

(Ant. to 362-72)

O drear dark doom that on women hath lighted !
By what cunning of pleading, when feet once trip, 870
Shall we loose the accuser's iron grip ?

PHAEDRA

O earth, O sun, I am justly requited .

Through the snares of calamity how shall I slip?
How, friends, shall I cloke my woe, how hide?
What God or what man shall stand forth on my side,
Shall consent in my sin to be made partaker?

For all life's anguish, and all life's shame
Are upon me, and overwhelm like a shipwrecking breaker!
Most accurst of my fate among women I am.

CHORUS

Woe, woe! 'Tis done. Queen, it hath naught availed, 680
Thy bower-maid's device: 'tis ruin all.

PHAEDRA

Vilest of vile! destroyer of thy friends!
How hast thou ruined me! May Zeus my sire
Smite thee with flame, blast thee to nothingness!
Did I not tell thee— not divine thy purpose?—
To speak not that whereby I am now dishonoured?
But thou wouldst not forbear. I shall not now
Even die unshamed! (A pause)

Some new plea must I find.
For yonder boy with soul keen-edged with wrath
Shall to his sire accuse me of thy sin, 690
Shall tell to agèd Pittheus my mischance,
Shall blaze the shameful tale through every land.
Curses on thee, and whoso thrusteth in
To do base service to unwilling friends!

NURSE

Mistress, thou mayst revile mine evil work,
For rankling pain bears thy discernment down:
Yet somewhat might I answer, wouldst thou hear
I nursed thee, loved thee, sought for thy disease
A healing balm,—and found not that I would.

HIPPOLYTUS

Had I sped well, right wise had I been held ;               700
For, as we speed, so is our wisdom's fame.

PHAEDRA

Ha ! is this just ?—should this suffice me now,
To have stabbed me, and then close in strife of words ?

NURSE

We waste the time in speech. I was not wise.
Yet even from this there is escape, my child.

PHAEDRA

Peace to thy talk. Thy counsel heretofore
Was shame, and mischief thine endeavour was.
Hence from my sight: for thine own self take thought.

I with my needs will deal—and honourably.
[Exit NURSE.]

But ye, O Troezen's daughters nobly born, 710
Grant to my supplication this, but this—
With silence veil what things ye here have heard.

CHORUS

I swear by reverend Artemis, Zeus' child,
Never to bare to light of thine ills aught.

PHAEDRA

Thou hast well said. Now, as I muse, I find
One refuge, one, from this calamity,
So to bequeath my sons a life of honour,
And what I may from this day's ruin save.
For never will I shame the halls of Crete,
Nor will I meet the face of Theseus ever,
For one poor life's sake, after all this shame.

CHORUS

Ah, wilt thou do a deed of ill past cure?

PHAEDRA

Die will I. How—for this will I take thought.

CHORUS

Ah hush !

PHAEDRA

O yea, advise me wisely thou !

But I shall gladden Cypris my destroyer
By fleeting out of life on this same day,
And vanquished so by bitter love shall be.
Yet in my death will I become the bane
Of one beside, that he may triumph not
Over my woes, and, taking of my pain, 730
His share, may learn sound wisdom's temperance.

[Exit PHAEDRA.]

CHORUS

Under the arched cliffs O were I lying, (Str. 1)
That there to a bird might a God change me,
And afar mid the flocks of the winged things flying
Over the swell of the Adrian sea [ing,
I might soar—and soar,—upon poised wings dream-
O'er the strand where Eridanus' waters be,
Where down to the sea-swell purple-gleaming
The tears of the Sun-god's daughters are streaming,
Of the thrice-sad sisters for Phaëthon sighing, 740
Star-flashes of strange tears amber-beaming !

(Ant. 1)

O to win to the strand where the apples are growing
Of the Hesperid chanters kept in ward,
Where the path over Ocean purple-glowing
By the Sea's Lord is to the seafarer barred !
O to light where Atlas hath aye in his keeping
The bourn twixt earth and the heavens bestarred,
Where the fountains ambrosial sunward are leaping
By the couches where Zeus in his halls lieth sleeping,
Where the bounty of Earth the life-bestowing 750
The bliss of the Gods ever higher is heaping !

(Str. 2)

O white-winged galley from Crete's far shore,
 Whose keel over deep-sea surges speeding,
 Through their flying brine and their battle-roar,
 Onward and onward my lady bore,
 From a bliss-fraught palace a princess leading
 To the joy of a bridal of woe exceeding!—
 For, a bird ill-boding, thy sail flitted o'er
 With the curse of the Cretan land unto Athens' glorious strand, 760
 Till the seafarers lashed to the beach Munychian
 the hawser-band,
 And sprang unto earth's firm floor.

Wherefore, with love-pangs all unblest (Ant. 2)
 For her gift, entered in Aphrodite, wringing
 Her heart-strings asunder, a fearful guest.
 Like a wrecked ship sinking, disaster-oppressed
 Over her bride-bower's rafters flinging
 The noose, shall she cast the coil close-clinging
 Round the neck that was whitest and loveliest, 770
 Because that with shuddering shame she shrank from a loathèd name,
 And she chose, in its stead, the stainless renown of a wife's fair fame,
 And, for anguish of love, heart-rest.

[A cry within]

*Run to the rescue, all ye nigh the house !
 In the strangling noose is Theseus' wife, our mistress !*

CHORUS

Woe ! Woe ! 'Tis done ! No more—no more is she,
 The queen—in yon noose rafter-hung upcaught !

[Cry within.]

*O haste !—will no one bring the steel two-edged,
Wherewith to loose this cincture of her neck ?* 780

SEMI-CHORUS 1

What shall we do, friends ? Deem ye we should pass
The doors, and from the halter loose the queen ?

SEMI-CHORUS 2

Wherefore ? Are no young handmaids at her side ?
The busy meddler treadeth perilous paths.

[Cry within.]

*Uncramp the limbs, streak out the hapless corpse.
Bitter house-warding this is for my lords !*

CHORUS

Dead is the woeful lady, by that cry :
Even now they streak her as a corpse is streaked.
Enter THESEUS.

THESEUS

Women, know ye what means this cry within ? 790
A dolorous shriek of handmaids reached mine ears ;
Nor deigns the house to open doors and greet me
Blithely, as from the oracle come home.
Hath aught untoward happed to Pittheus' eld ?
Well-stricken in years is he, yet dole were ours
If haply fare his feet from these halls forth.

CHORUS

Not to the old pertains this thy mischance,
Theseus : the young have died, for grief to thee.

THESEUS

Woe !—is a child's life by the spoiler reft ?

 οὐ τλητὸν οὐδὲ ῥητόν· ἀλλ' ἀπωλόμην· ἔρημος οἶκος, καὶ τέκν' ὀρφανεύεται.
 ἔλιπες ἔλιπες, ὦ φίλα
 γυναικῶν ἀρίστα θ' ὀπόσας ἐφορᾷ
 850 φέγγος ἀελίου τε καὶ
 νυκτὸς ἀστερωπὸν σέλας.

HIPPOLYTUS

What word can I speak unto thee?—how name, dear wife, [thy life ?
 The doom that on thee hath descended and crushed
 Like a bird hast thou fled from mine hands,
 And with swift leap hast rushed to Hades' halls.
 Never sorrow of sorrows was like unto mine. 830
 On mine head have I gathered the load
 Of the far-off sins of an ancient line ;
 And this is the vengeance of God.

CHORUS

Not to thee only, king, this grief hath come ;
With many more a dear wife's loss thou sharest.

THESEUS

(Ant.)
In the darkness under the earth—ah me, to have died,
That in blackness of deep gloom under the earth I might hide,
Who am reft of thy most dear companionship !
Oh, thou hast dealt worse death than thou hast suffered !
Of whom shall I hear whence came it, the deadly stroke
Of doom, that the heart of thee, my belovèd, broke ?
Will none speak what befell ?—or all for naught
Doth this my palace roof a menial throng ?
Woe's me, my belovèd, stricken because of thee !
Ah for the grief of mine house, for the travail I see,
Past utterance, past endurance !—lost am I :
Mine house is desolate, motherless my babes.
O my darling, my wife, thou art gone, thou art gone,
O best upon whom the light
Looketh down of the all-beholding sun,
Or the splendour of star-eyed night !

HIPPOLYTUS

CHORUS

Alas for thee, and thine house's burden of ill !
With ruth for thy fate running o'er do mine eyes
the tear-drops pour :

[Aside] But for woe which must follow I shudder and shudder still.

THESEUS

Ha !

What is this tablet, what, to her dear hand
Fastened ? Would'st fain speak some word unsaid ?
Now hath she writ, unhappy one, to pray
Touching my marriage or my children aught ?
Fear not, lost love : the woman is not born
Shall lie in Theseus' couch, or tread his halls.
Lo, how the impress of the carven gold
Of her that is no more smiles up at me !
Come, let me uncoil the seal's envelopings,
And see what would this tablet say to me.

860

CHORUS

Woe, woe ! How God bringeth evil following hard on the track

Of evil ! I count for living unmeet
The lot of a life such as this, as on deeds that are wrought I look back : [but in ruin and wrack
For the house of my lords standeth not any more,
I behold it hurled from its ancient seat.

Ah God, if this may be, wreck not the house,
But hearken my beseeching, for I trace,
Seer-like, an evil omen from his face.

THESEUS

Ah me !—a new curse added to the old,
Past utterance, past endurance ! Woe is me !

HIPPOLYTUS

CHORUS

What is it? Speak, if I may share the tale.

THESEUS

It shrieketh,—ah, horrors the tablet outshrieketh.

O how can I flee

My burden of woes! I am utterly ruin-spel!

What incantation of curses is this I have read

Graved on the wax—woe's me!

880

CHORUS

Alas! thou utterest speech that heralds ill.

THESEUS

No more within my lips' gates will I pen

The horror that chokes utterance—O my people,

Hippolytus hath dared assail my bed

With violence, flouting Zeus's awful eye! . . . .

Father Poseidon, thou didst promise me

Three curses once. Do thou with one of these Destroy my son: may he not 'scape this day,

If soothfast curses thou hast granted me.

890

CHORUS

Oh, for the Gods' sake, King, recall this prayer!

Thou yet shalt know thine error: yield to me.

THESEUS

Never! Yea, I will drive him from the land;

And, of two dooms, with one shall he be scourged:—

Either Poseidon, reverencing my prayers,

Shall slay and speed him unto Hades' halls,

Or, banished from this land, a vagabond

On strange shores shall he drain life's bitter dregs.

CHORUS

Lo, where thy son's self comes in season meet,

Hippolytus: refrain thy wrath, O king

Theseus, and for thine house the best devise.

HIPPOLYTUS

Enter HIPPOLYTUS.

HIPPOLYTUS

Father, I heard thy crying, and I came
In haste : yet for what cause thou makest moan
I know not, but of thee I fain would hear.
Ha ! what is this ? Father, thy wife I see
Dead !—matter this for marvel passing great.
But now I left her, who upon this light
Looked, it is not yet a long season since.
What hath befallen her ? How perished she ?
Father, I fain would learn it from thy mouth. 910
Silent ! In trouble silence naught avails.
The heart that yearns to know all cares of thine
Fain shall be found to prove thy troubles too.
Sure, from thy friends—yea, and thy more than friends,
Father, it is not right to hide thy griefs.

THESEUS

O men that oftentimes err, and err in vain,
Why are ye teaching ever arts untold,
And search out manifold inventions still,
But one thing know not, no, have never sought it,
To teach them wit, in whom no wisdom dwells ? 920

HIPPOLYTUS

A cunning sage were this, endued with power
To force them to be wise who are witless all !
But—so ill-timed thy speculations are—
Father, I fear thy tongue for grief runs wild.

THESEUS

Out ! There should dwell in men some certain test
Of friendship, a discernor of the heart,
To show who is true friend and who is false.
Yea, all men should have had two several voices,
One honest, one—as chance or interest swayed ;

HIPPOLYTUS

That so the traitor voice might be convict
Before the honest, nor we be deceived. 93

HIPPOLYTUS

How?—to thine ear hath some friend slandered me,
That I the innocent am in evil case?
Astonied am I, for thy words amaze me,
Thus wandering wide astray from reason's throne.

THESEUS

Out on man's heart!—to what depths will it sink?
Where shall assurance end and hardihood?
For if it swell with every generation,
And the new age reach heights of villainy
Above the old, the Gods must needs create 94
A new earth unto this, that room be found
For the unrighteous and unjust in grain.
Look on this man, who, though he be my son,
Hath shamed my couch, and shall be manifest proved
Most vile, by testimony of the dead.

HIPPOLYTUS covers his face in horror.

Nay, show thy face—since thou hast come to this,
This foulness,—look thy father in the face!
Dost thou with Gods—O thou no common man!—
Consort? Art thou the chaste, the stainless one?
I will not trust thy boasts, for so should I 95
Impute to Gods un wisdom's ignorance.
Now vaunt, ay now!—set out thy paltry wares
Of lifeless food:<sup>1</sup> take Orpheus for thy king:
Rave, worship vapourings of many a scroll:
For ah, thou'rt caught! I warn all men to shun
Such hypocrites as this; for they hunt souls
With canting words, the while they plot foul sin.

<sup>1</sup> Abstinence from animal food was a feature of the ascetic doctrines attributed to Orpheus, as of those of Pythagoras.

Dead is she : thinkest thou this saveth thee ?
Hereby thou art most convicted, basest thou !
What oaths, what protestations shall bear down 960

Thrusts tablet into HIPPOLYTUS' hand.

This, for thine absolution of the charge ? . . . .
Now, what is thy defence ?—" She hated me :
Bastard and true-born still are natural foes ?"
Fools' traffic this in life—to fling away
For hate of thee the dearest thing she owed .
Or—say'st thou ?—" Frailty is not in men,
But in the blood of women." Youths, I have proved,
Are no whit more than women continent,
When Cypris stirs a heart in flush of youth :
Yet all the strength of manhood helpeth them. 970
But wherefore thus contend against thy pleas,
When there the corpse lies, witness faithful and true ?

Hence from this land, an exile, with all speed,
Never come thou to god-built Athens more,
Nor any marches where my spear hath sway :
For if 'neath thy mishandling I sit still,
Never shall Isthmian Sinis testify
That I slew him, but name it idle vaunt ;
Nor those Scironian Rocks that skirt the sea
Shall call me terrible to evil-doers. 980

CHORUS

I dare not name of mortals any man
Happy, for lo, the first is made the last.

HIPPOLYTUS

HIPPOLYTUS

My tongue is loosed with equals, and those few.
 And reason : they that are among the wise
 Of none account, to mobs are eloquent.
 Yet needs I must, now this mischance hath lighted,      990
 Unrein my tongue. And first will I begin
 Where thou didst first assail, as thou wouldst crush me,
 And I find no reply. See'st thou yon sun
 And earth?—within their compass is no man—
 Though thou deny it—chaster-souled than I.
 For I have learnt, first, to revere the Gods,
 Then, to have friends which seek to do no wrong,
 Friends who think shame to proffer aught of base,
 Yea, or to render others shameful service.
 No mocker am I, father, at my friends,      1000
 But to the absent even as to the present :
 In one thing flawless,—where thou think'st me trapped,—
 For to this day my body is clean of lust.
 I know this commerce not, save by the ear
 And sight of pictures,—little will have I
 To look thereon, who keep a virgin soul.
 Yet, grant my virtue wins not thy belief,
 Sure 'tis for thee to show whereby I fell.
 Wilt say this woman's form in grace outshone
 All women?—that I hoped thy state to inherit      1010
 By winning for mine own thine heiress-queen?
 Vain fool were I—nay rather, wholly mad!
 “But Power can tempt,” might one say, “even the chaste.”
 Nay verily!—save the lust of sovereignty
 Poison the wit of all who covet it.
 Fain would I foremost victor be in games
 Hellenic, and be second in the realm,
 And with pure-hearted friends be happy still.

HIPPOLYTUS

For there is true well-being, from peril far,
Which giveth sweeter joys than sovereignty. 1020
So hast thou all my counterpleas, save one :—
Could I that witness call who knows mine heart,
And, pleading, face thy dead wife's living face,
By deeds shouldst thou search out and know the wicked :

But now—by Zeus Oath-warden, by Earth's plain,
Swear I, I ne'er attempted couch of thine,
No, nor had wished it, nor had dreamed thereof.
God grant I perish nameless, fameless all,
Cityless, homeless, exile, vagabond
On earth,—may sea nor land receive my corpse 1030
When I am dead, if I be this vile thing !
Now if through fear she flung away her life
I know not. More I cannot sinless say.
Her honour by dishonour did she guard :
I, in a sore strait, cleave to honour still.

CHORUS

Thou hast said enough to turn this charge from thee,
Tendering the oath of Gods, the awful pledge.

THESEUS

Juggler with words and trickster is he not,
Who thinks by his unruffled calm to outface
My mood, when his own father he hath shamed ? 1040

HIPPOLYTUS

Nay, but I marvel, father, at this in thee ;—
For, if my son thou wert, and I thy sire,
I had slain thee : exile should not be thy mulct,
If on my wife thou hadst dared to lay a hand.

THESEUS

Good sooth, well said : yet not so shalt thou die—
Not by the doom thou speakest for thyself !

MESSENGER

We, hard beside the beach that greets the surf,
With combs were smoothing out his horses' manes
Weeping: for word had come to us to say
That no more in this land Hippolytus
Might walk, of thee to wretched exile doomed
Then came he, bringing the same tale of tears
To us upon the strand. a countless throng
Of friends his age-mates following with him came. 1186
But, ceasing at the last from moan, he cried:
"Why rave I thus? I must obey my sire.
Harness the horses to the chariot-yoke,
My thralls: this city is no more for me."

Then, then did every man bestir himself.
Swifter than one could say it were the steeds
Harnessed, and by our lord's side set we them.
Then the reins caught he from the chariot-rail,
And in the car's foot-rests set firm his feet,
But to the Gods first stretched his hands and cried: 1190
"Zeus, may I die if I a villain am!
May my sire know that he is wronging me,
When I am dead, if not while I see light!"
Then in his hand he took the scourge and smote
At once the steeds We henchmen by the car
Fast by the reins attended on our lord
Towards Argos straight and Epidauria.

And, as we entered on a desert tract,
Beyond this Troezen's border lies a beach
Sloping full down to yon Saronic Sea 1200
There from earth's womb a noise like Zeus's thunder

Made muffled roaring, a blood-curdling sound.
Then the steeds lifted head and pricked the ear;
And thrilled through us most vehement dismay
Whence might the sound be To the sea-lashed shores

Then glanced we, and a surge unearthly saw
Up-columned to the sky, that from my sight
Shrouded was all the beach Scironian;
Veiled was the Isthmus and Asclepius' Crag
Then swelling higher, higher, and spurting forth 1210
All round a cloud of foam and sea-blown spray,
Shoreward it rusheth, toward the four-horse car.

Then from the breaker's midst and hugest surge
The wave belched forth a bull, a monster fierce,
With whose throat-thunder all the land was filled,
And echoed awfully, as on our gaze
He buist, a sight more dread than eyes could bear.
Straightway wild panic falleth on the steeds:
Yet their lord, wholly conversant with wont 1220
Of horses, caught the reins in both his hands,
And tugs, as shipman tugs against the oar,
Throwing his body's weight against the reins.
But on the fire-forged bits they clenched their teeth,
And whirled him on o'ermastered, recking not
Of steering hand, or curb, or strong car's weight.
And if, yet holding to the chariot-helm,
Toward the smooth ground he strove to guide their course,

Aye showed that bull in front, to turn them back,
Maddening with fright the fourfold chariot-team
If toward the rocks they rushed with frenzied heart, 1230
Fast by the rail in silence followed he
On, till he fouled and overset the car,
Dashing against a rock the chariot-felly.

Then all was turmoil upward leapt in air
Naves of the wheels and linchpins of the axles,
And he, unhappy, tangled in the reins,
Bound in indissoluble bonds, is haled
Dashing his head against the cruel rocks,
Rending his flesh, outshrieking piteous cries—
“O stay, ye horses nurtured at my cribs, 1240
Destroy me not!—ah, father’s curse ill-starred!
Will no one save an utter-innocent man?”
Ah, many willed, but far behind were left
With feet outstripped Loosed from the toils at last
Of clean-cut reins,—I know not in what wise,—
He falls, yet breathing for short space of life
Vanished the steeds and that accursed monster,
The bull, mid rock-strewn ground, I know not where.

Thrall am I verily of thine house, O king,
Howbeit so foul a charge—I never can 1250
Believe it of thy son, that he is vile,
Not though all womankind should hang themselves,
Though one should fill with wailing every pine

HIPPOLYTUS

Enter ARTEMIS, veiled in a nectar-breathing cloud.

ARTEMIS

'Thou high-born scion of Aegeus, I call upon thee :

Theseus, give ear unto me

It is Artemis, Leto's Daughter, that nameth thy name :

Why dost thou joy in thy shame, [moved
Who hast murdered thy son unrighteously, thereto

By the lies of thy wife unproved? [found
Ruin and wrack in the sight of the sun hast thou

How wilt thou hide underground
Thy dishonour in hell, or upsoaring mid clouds, veil there 1290

Thy life of remorse and despair?
For the part that was erstwhile thine in the good man's lot,

Behold, it is not.

Theseus, hear thou the posture of thy woes :—

Yet have I no help for thee, only pain ;

But I have come to show the righteousness

Of thy son, that in fair fame he may die,

And thy wife's fever-flame,—yet in some sort 1300

Her nobleness. She, stung by goads of her

Whom we, who joy in purity, abhor

Most of all Gods, was lovesick for thy son.

Her reason fought her passion, and she died

Through schemes wherein she had no part: her nurse

Told under oath-seal to thy son her pangs :

He, even as was righteous, would not heed

The tempting, no, nor when sore-wronged of thee

Broke he the oath's pledge, for he feared the Gods

But she, adread to be of sin convict, 1310

Wrote that false writing, and by treachery so

Destroyed thy son :—and thou believedst her !

THESEUS

Al! me!

ARTEMIS

Is it torture, Theseus?—Nay, but hear me out,
That hearing all thou mayst the more lament.
Thy sire's sure curses three—rememberest them?
One hast thou thus misused, O villain thou,
Against thy son, which might have quelled a foe!
Thy sire the Sea-king, in his love's despite,
Gave as he needs must, seeing he had pledged him

Yet wicked in his eyes and mine art thou, 1320
Who wouldst not wait for proof, nor prophet's voice,
Nor yet make inquisition, nor let time
Slowly reveal all, but with criminal haste
Didst hurl the curse upon thy son, and slay.

THESEUS

Queen, ruin seize me!

ARTEMIS

Deep thy sin: but yet
Even thou for this mayst win forgiveness still.
For Cypris willed that all this should befall
To glut her spite. And thus the Gods' wont is:—
None doth presume to thwart the fixed design
Willed by his fellow: still aloof we stand 1330
Else be thou sure that, but for dread of Zeus,
I never would have known this depth of shame,
To suffer one, of all men best beloved
Of me, to die. But thy transgression, first,
Thine ignorance from utter sin redeems,
Then, by her death thy wife made void all test
Of these her words, and won thy credence so
Now, most on thee this storm of woe hath burst;

Of his father's own erring :—
Ah Zeus, hast thou seen ?
Innocent I, ever fearing the Gods, who was wholly heart-clean

Above all men beside,— Lo, how am I thrust
Unto Hades, to hide
My life in the dust !
All vainly I revered God, and in vain unto man was I just

Let the stricken one be !—
Ah, mine anguish again !—
Give ye sleep unto me,
Death-salve for my pain,
The sleep of the sword for the wretched—I long, oh
I long to be slain

Dire curse of my father !—
Sins, long ago wrought
Of mine ancestors, gather :
Their doom tarries not,
But the scourge overfloweth the innocent—wherefore on me is it brought ?

Ah for words of a spell,
That my soul might take flight
From the tortures, with fell
Unrelentings that smite !
Oh for the blackness of Hades, the sleep of Necessity's night !

ARTEMIS

Let be : for even in the nether gloom
Not unavenged shall be the stroke that fell
Upon thy frame through rage of Cypris' spite,
For thy pure soul's and for thy reverence' sake.
For upon one, her minion, with mine hand— 1420
Whoso is dearest of all men to her—
With these unerring shafts will I avenge me.
And to thee, hapless one, for these thy woes
High honours will I give in Troezen-town.
Ere their espousals shall all maids unwed
For thee cut off their hair : through age on age
Full harvests shalt thou reap of tears of grieving.

<sup>1</sup> 1462-66 allude to the death of Pericles, which happened shortly before the representation of this play. The poet in fact changed, to meet the occasion, the original ending, which ran thus:—

O blest one, what honours have fallen to thee,

O hero, because of thy chastity,

Never shall aught be more of worth

Than virtue unto the sons of earth;

For soon or late on the fear of God

Goodly reward shall be bestowed.

ARGUMENT

WHEN the Heroes, who sailed in the ship Argo to bring home the Golden Fleece, came to the land of Colchis, they found that to win that treasure was a deed passing the might of mortal man, so terribly was it guarded by monsters magical, even fire-breathing bulls and an un-sleeping dragon. But Aphrodite caused Medea the sorceress, daughter of Aecles the king of the land, to love Jason their captain, so that by her magic he overcame the bulls and the dragon. Then Jason took the Fleece, and Medea withal, for that he had pledged him to wed her in the land of Greece. But as they fled, Absyrtus her brother pursued them with a host of war, yet by Medea's devising was he slain. So they came to the land of Iolcos, and to Pelias, who held the kingdom which was Jason's of right. But Medea by her magic wrought upon Pelias' daughters so that they slew their father. Yet by reason of men's horror of the deed might not Jason and Medea abide in the land, and they came to Corinth. But there all men rejoiced for the coming of a hero so mighty in war and a lady renowned for wisdom unearthly, for that Medea was grandchild of the Sun-god. But after ten years, Creon the king of the land spake to Jason, saying, "Lo, I will give thee my daughter to wife, and thou shalt reign after me, if thou wilt put away thy wife Medea, but her and her two sons will I banish from the land." So Jason consented. And of this befell things strange and awful, which are old herein.

Would God that Argo's hull had never flown
Through those blue Clashing Rocks to Colchusland,

Nor that the axe-hewn pine in Pelion's glens
Ever had fallen, nor filled with oars the hands
Of hero-princes, who at Pelias' hest
Quested the Golden Fleece! My mistress then,
Medea, ne'er had sailed to Iolcos' towers
With love for Jason thrilled through all her soul,
Nor had on Pelias' daughters wrought to slay
Then sire, nor now in this Corinthian land
Dwelt with her lord and children, gladdening
By this her exile them whose land received her, 10
Yea, and in all things serving Jason's weal,
Which is the chief salvation of the home,
When wife stands not at variance with her lord.

Now all is hatred: love is sickness-stricken
For Jason, traitor to his babes and her,
My mistress, weddeth with a child of kings,
Daughter of Creon ruler of the land.
And, slighted thus, Medea, hapless wife,
Cries on the oaths, invokes that mightiest pledge 20
Of the right hand, and calls the Gods to witness
What recompense from Jason she receives.
Fasting, with limbs in grief's abandonment

Flung down, she weeps and wastes through all the days

Since first she knew her lord's wrong done to her,
Never uplifting eye, nor turning ever
From earth her face. No more than rock or sea-wave
Hearkeneth she to friends that counsel her ;
Saving at whiles, when, lifting her white neck, 30
To herself she wails her father once beloved,
Her land, her home, forsaking which she came
Hither with him who holds her now condemned.
Alas for her ! she knows, by affliction taught,
How good is fatherland unforfeited
She loathes her babes, joys not beholding them.
And what she may devise I dread to think.
Grim is her spirit, one that will not brook
Mishandling · yea, I know her, and I fear
Lest to her bridal bower she softly steal, 40
And through her own heart thrust the whetted knife,
Or slay the king and him that weds his child,
And get herself some doom yet worse thereby ;
For dangerous is she · who begins a feud
With her, not soon shall sing the triumph-song.
But lo, her boys, their racing-sport put by,
Draw near, all careless of their mother's wrongs,
For the young heart loves not to brood in grief.

Sweeter name than "The Mean" shall ye say not,
And to taste it is sweetness untold.
But to men never weal above measure
Availed: on its perilous height
The Gods in their hour of displeasure
The heavier smite.

Enter CHORUS of Corinthian Ladies.

CHORUS

I have hearkened the voice of the daughter of Colchis,
the sound of the crying
Of the misery-stricken; nor yet is she stilled. Now the tale of her tell,
Grey woman; for moaned through the porch from her chamber the wail of her sighing;
And I cannot, I cannot be glad while the home in affliction is lying,
The house I have loved so well.

NURSE

Home?—home there is none: it hath vanished away:

For my lord to a bride of the princes is thrall,      140
And my lady is pining the livelong day
In her bower, and for naught that her friends' lips [say
On her heart may the dews of comfort fall.

MEDEA (behind the scenes)

Would God that the flame of the lightning from heaven descending, descending,
Might burn through mine head!—for in living wherein any more is my gain?
Alas and alas! Would God I might bring to an ending, an ending,
The life that I loathe, and behind me might cast
all its burden of pain!

CHORUS

O Zeus, Earth, Light, did ye hear her, (Str.)
 How waileth the woe-laden breath
 Of the bride in unhappiest plight?
 What yearning for vanished delight, 150
 O passion-distraught, should have might
 To cause thee to wish death nearer—
 The ending of all things, death?
 Make thou not for this supplication!
 If thine husband hath turned and adored
 New love, that estrangèd he is,
 O harrow thy soul not for this:
 It is Zeus that shall right thee, I wis.
 Ah, pine not in over-vexation
 Of spirit, bewailing thy lord!

MEDEA (behind the scenes)

O Lady of Justice, O Artemis' Majesty, see it, O see 160
 it— [lasting who tied
 Look on the wrongs that I suffer, by oaths ever-
 The soul of mine husband, that ne'er from the curse
 he might free it, nor free it
 From your vengeance! O may I behold him at last, even him and his bride,
 Them, and these halls therewithal, all shattered in ruin, in ruin!— [despite!
 Wretches, who dare unprovoked to do to Medea
 O father, O city, whom erst I forsook, for undoing, undoing,
 And for shame, when the blood of my brother I spilt on the path of my flight!

NURSE

Do ye hear what she saith, and uplifteth her cry
 Unto Themis and Zeus, to the Suppliant's King, Oath-steward of men that be born but to die? 170

MEDEA

O my lady will lay not her anger by
Soon, making her vengeance a little thing.

CHORUS

(Ant)
If she would but come forth where we wait her,
If she would but give ear to the sound
Of our speech, that her spirit would learn
From its fierceness of anger to turn,
And her lust for revenge not burn !
O ne'er may my love prove traitor,
Never false to my friends be it found !

But go thou, and forth of the dwelling
Thy mistress hitherward lead : 180
Say to her that friends be we all.
O hasten, ere mischief befall
The lords of the palace-hall,
For her grief, like a tempest upswelling,
Resistless shall ruin-ward speed

NURSE

I will do it : but almost my spirit despaireth
To win her : yet labour of love shall it be.
But my queen on her thralls as a mad bull glareth,
Or a lioness couched mid her whelps, whoso dareth
With speech to draw near her, so tameless is she

He should err not, who named the old singers in singing 190
Not cunning, but left-handed bards, for their lays Did they frame for the mirth-tide, the festal in-bringing
Of the wine, and the feast, when the harp-strings are ringing
To sweeten with melody life's sweet days.

Corinthian dames, I have come forth my doors
Lest ye condemn me. Many I know are held
Mis-proud—some, since they shrink from public gaze;
Some, from their bearing to their fellow-men;

For justice dwells not in the eyes of man,
Who, ere he hath discerned his neighbour's heart, 220
Hates him at sight, albeit nowise wronged

MEDEA

A stranger must conform to the city's wont,
Nor citizens uncondemned may flout their fellows,
Like mannerless churls, a law unto themselves.

But me—the blow ye wot of suddenly fell
Soul-shattering. 'Tis my ruin. I have lost
All grace of life: I long to die, O friends.
He, to know whom well was mine all in all,
My lord, of all men basest hath become!
Surely, of creatures that have life and wit, 230
We women are of all unhappiest,
Who, first, must buy, as buys the highest bidder,
A husband—nay, we do but win for our lives
A master! Deeper depth of wrong is this Here too is dire risk—will the lord we gain
Be evil or good? Divorce?—'tis infamy
To us: we may not even reject a suitor!<sup>1</sup>

Then, coming to new customs, habits new,
One need be a seer, to know the thing unlearnt
At home, what manner of man her mate shall be 240
And if we learn our lesson, if our lord
Dwell with us, plunging not against the yoke,
Happy our lot is; else—no help but death.
For the man, when the home-yoke galls his neck,
Goes forth, to ease a weary sickened heart
By turning to some friend, some kindred soul:
We to one heart alone can look for comfort.

But we, say they, live an unperilled life
At home, while they do battle with the spear—
Unreasoning fools! Thrice would I under shield 250
Stand, rather than bear childbirth-peril once.

But ah, thy story is not one with mine !
Thine is this city, thine a father's home,
Thine bliss of life and fellowship of friends ;
But I, lone, cityless, and outraged thus
Of him who kidnapped me from foreign shores,
Mother nor brother have I, kinsman none,
For port of refuge from calamity
Wherefore I fain would win of thee this boon —
If any path be found me, or device, 260
Whereby to avenge these wrongs upon mine husband,
On her who weds, on him who gives the bride,
Keep silence. Woman quails at every peril,
Faint-heart to face the fray and look on steel ;
But when in wedlock-rights she suffers wrong,
No spirit more bloodthirsty shall be found

CHORUS

This will I ; for 'tis just that thou, Medea,
Requite thy lord · no marvel thou dost grieve.
But I see Creon, ruler of this land,
Advancing, herald of some new decree. 270

Ere from the land's bounds I have cast thee forth

MEDEA

Yet, howso wronged, one question will I ask— 280
For what cause, Creon, dost thou banish me ?

CREON

I fear thee—need is none to cloak my words—
Lest thou wreak cureless vengeance on my child
And to this dread do many things conspire :
Wise art thou, cunning in much evil lore ;
Chafed art thou, of thine husband's couch bereft :
I hear thou threatenest, so they bring me word,
To wreak on sire, on bridegroom, and on bride
Mischief. I guard mine head ere falls the blow.
Better be hated, woman, now of thee, 290
Than once relent, and sorely groan too late.

MEDEA

Not now first, Creon,—many a time ere now
Rumour hath wronged and wrought me grievous harm.

Ne'er should the man whose heart is sound of wit

Let teach his sons more wisdom than the herd.
They are burdened with unprofitable lore,
And spite and envy of other folk they earn.
For, if thou bring strange wisdom unto dullards,
Useless shalt thou be counted, and not wise :
And, if thy fame outshine those heretofore 300
Held wise, thou shalt be odious in men's eyes.
Myself too in this fortune am partaker.
Of some my wisdom wins me jealousy,
Some count me spiritless ; outlandish some ;
Unsocial some Yet no deep lore is mine.
And thou, thou fear'st me, lest I work thee
harm.

Not such am I—O Creon, dread not me—
That against princes I should dare transgress.

MEDEA

Zeus, Zeus, forget not him who is cause of this !

CREON

Hence, passionate fool, and rid me of my trouble.

MEDEA

Troubled am I ; new troubles need I none

CREON

Soon shalt thou be by servants' hands thrust out.

MEDEA

Nay—nay—not this, O Creon, I implore !

CREON

So, woman, thou, it seems, wilt make a coil

MEDEA

I will flee forth :—not this the boon I crave.

CREON

Why restive then ?—why rid not Corinth of thee ?

MEDEA

Suffer me yet to tarry this one day,
And somewhat for our exile to take thought,
And find my babes a refuge, since their sire
Cares naught to make provision for his sons.
Compassionate these—a father too art thou
Of children—meet it is thou show them grace.
Not for myself I fret, if I be banished :
For them in their calamity I mourn

340

CREON

My spirit least of all is tyrannous
Many a plan have my relentings marred :
And, woman, now I know I err herein,
Yet shalt thou win this boon. But I forewarn thee,
If thee the approaching Sun-god's torch behold
Within this country's confines with thy sons,

 But to such height of folly hath he come,
 That, when he might forestall mine every plot
 By banishment, this day of grace he grants me
 To stay, wherein three foes will I lay dead,
 The father, and the daughter, and mine husband.
 And, having for them many paths of death,
 Which first to take in hand I know not, friends—

 Or to steal softly to their bridal-bower, [knife
 And through their two hearts thrust the whetted 380

MEDEA

Yet one thing bars the way—if I be found
Crossing the threshold of the house and plotting,
Die shall I mid the mocking laughter of foes.

Best the sure path, wherein my nature's cunning
Excels, by poisons to destroy them—yea.
Now, grant them dead: what city will receive
me,

What host vouchsafe a land of refuge, home
Secure, and from the avenger shield my life?
There is none. Tarrying then a little space,
If any tower of safety shall appear, 390
These deaths by guile and silence will I compass;
But if misfortune drive me desperate forth,
Myself will grip the sword,—yea, though I die,—
And slay, and dare the strong hand's reckless deed

Ah, by the Queen of Night, whom I revere
Above all, and for fellow-worker chose,
Hecate, dweller by mine hearth's dark shrine,
None, none shall vex my soul, and rue it not.
Bitter and woeful bridal will I give them,
Bitter troth-plight and banishing of me 400

Up then!—spare naught of all thy sorcery-lore,
Medea, of thy plotting and contriving;
On to the dread deed! Now is need of daring.
Look on thy wrongs: thou must not make derision
For sons of Sisyphus, for Jason's bride,—
Thou, sprung from royal father, from the Sun!
Thou know'st the means. I prove me woman indeed!

Men say we are most helpless for all good,
But of dark deeds most cunning fashioners

The thoughts of the hearts of men are treachery wholly, and, reeling [become a delusion.
From its ancient foundations, the faith of the Gods is Everywhere change !—even me men's voices hence-

To be cast forth shamed and banned.

JASON

Not now first, nay, but oft-times have I marked
What desperate mischief is a froward spirit.
Thou mightest stay in Corinth, in these halls,
Bearing unfractionously thy rulers' pleasure,
Yet for wild whirling words banished thou art. 450
Me they vex not—cease never, an thou wilt,
Clamouring, "Jason is of men most base!"
But, for thy railing on thy rulers, count it
All gain, that only exile punisheth thee
For me—I have striven long to appease the wrath
Of kings incensed: fain would I thou shouldst stay.
But thou rein'st not thy folly, speaking still Evil of dignities, art therefore banished
Yet, for all this, not wearied of my friends,
With so much forethought come I for thee, lady, 460
That, banished with thy babes, thou lack not gold,
Nor aught beside; for exile brings with it
Hardships full many. Though thou hatest me,
Never can I bear malice against thee.

MEDEA

To heaven, to me, to all the race of men ?
This is not daring, no, nor courage this,
To wrong thy friends, and blench not from their eyes, ‘
But, of all plagues infecting men, the worst,
Even shamelessness. And yet ’tis well thou cam’st,
For I shall ease the burden of mine heart
Reviling thee, and thou be galled to hear.
And with the first things first will I begin.
I saved thee : this knows every son of Greece
That stepped with thee aboard thine Argo’s hull,
Thee, sent to quell the flame-outbreathing bulls
With yoke-bands, and to sow the tilth of death.
The dragon, warder of the Fleece of Gold, 4
That sleepless kept it with his manifold coils,
I slew, and raised deliverance-light for thee.
Myself forsook my father and mine home,
And to Iolcos under Pelion came
With thee, more zealous in thy cause than wise.
Pelias I slew by his own children’s hands—
Of all deaths worst,—and dashed their house to ruin.
Thus dealt with, basest of all men, by me,
For a new bride hast thou forsaken me,
Though I had borne thee children ! Wert thou childless, 48
Not past forgiving were this marriage-craving
But faith of oaths hath vanished. I know not Whether thou deem’st the olden Gods yet rule,
Or that new laws are now ordained for men ;
For thine heart speaks thee unto me forsworn.
Out on this right hand, which thou oft wouldst clasp,—
These knees !—I was polluted by the touch

Of a base man, thus frustrate of mine hopes !
Come, as a friend will I commune with thee—

To Pelias' hapless daughters ? Graciously
Their father's slayer would they welcome home !
For thus it is—a foe am I become
To mine own house . no quarrel I had with those With whom I have now a death-feud for thy sake.
For all this hast thou made me passing-blest
Midst Hellas' daughters ! Oh, in thee have I— 510
O wretched I !—a wondrous spouse and leal,
Since from the land cast forth I pass to exile
Forlorn of friends, alone with children lone
A proud reproach for our new bridegroom this—
“ In poverty his babes, his saviour, wander ! ”
O Zeus, ah wherefore hast thou given to men
Plain signs for gold which is but counterfeit,
But no assay-mark nature-graven shows

Her, and none other or of Gods or men.
 Thou art subtle of wit—nay, but ungenerous
 It were to tell how Love, by strong compulsion      530
 Of shafts unerring, made thee save my life
 Yet take I not account too strict thereof;
 For, in that thou didst save me, thou didst well.
 Howbeit, more hast thou received than given
 From my deliverance, as my words shall prove :—
 First, then, in Hellas dwell'st thou, in the stead
 Of land barbaric, knowest justice, learnest
 To live by law without respect of force,
 And all the Greeks have heard thy wisdom's fame
 Renown is thine; but if on earth's far bourn      540
 Thou dwelledst yet, thou hadst not lived in stony.
 Now mine be neither gold mine halls within,
 Nor sweeter song be mine than Orpheus sang,
 If my fair fortune be to fame unknown

Thus far of my great labours have I spoken,—
 This challenge to debate didst thou fling down :—
 But, for thy railings on my royal marriage,
 Herein will I show, first, that wise I was;
 Then, temperate; third, to thee the best of friends
 And to my children—nay, but hear me out.      550

When I came hither from Iolcos-land
 With many a desperate fortune in my train,
 What happier treasure-trove could I have found
 Than to wed—I, an exile—with a princess?
 Not—where it galls thee—loathing couch of thine,
 And for a new bride smitten with desire,
 Nor eager I to multiply mine offspring—
 Suffice these born to me—no fault in them :
 But that—thus chiefly—we might live in honour,

And be not straitened,—for I know full well
How all friends from the poor man stand aloof,—
And I might nurture as beseems mine house
Our sons, and to these born of thee beget
Brethren, and, knitting in one family all, Live happy days. Thou, what wouldst thou of children?

But me it profits, through sons to be born
To help the living Have I planned so ill?
Not thou wouldst say it, save for jealousy's sting.

But ye—ye women—so unreasoning are
That, wedlock-rights untrespassed-on, all's well ; 570
But, if once your sole tenure be infringed,
With the best, fairest lot are ye at feud

MEDEA

Thou know'st not what good fortune thou hast found ,
For I will end thy childlessness, will cause
Thy seed to grow to sons ; such charms I know.

ÆGEUS

For many causes am I minded, lady,
'This grace to grant thee : for the Gods' sake first , 720
'Then, for thy promise of a seed of sons ,
For herein Ægeus' name is like to die
But thus it is—if to my land thou come,
I will protect thee all I can : my right
Is this , but I forewarn thee of one thing—
Not from this land to lead thee I consent ;
But, if thou reachest of thyself mine halls,
Safe shalt thou bide ; to none will I yield thee.
But from this land thou must thyself escape ;
For even to strangers blameless will I be. 730

MEDEA

So be it. Yet, were oath-pledge given for this
To me, then had I all I would of thee

ÆGEUS

Ha, dost not trust me ?—or at what dost stumble ?

MEDEA

I trust thee ; but my foes are Pelas' house
And Creon Oath-bound, thou couldst never yield me
To these, when they would drag me from the land
Hadst thou but promised, to the Gods unpledged,
Thou mightest turn their friend, might'st lightly yield
To herald-summons. Strengthless is my cause :
Wealth is on their side, and a princely house. 740

Foresight exceeding, lady, in thy words !
Yet, if this be thy will, I draw not back.
Yea, for myself is this the safest course,
To have a plea to show unto thy foes ;
And firmer stands thy cause. The Oath-gods name.

MEDEA

The sweet visions that wing thy feet, mayst thou bring
To accomplishment, Aegeus, for now this thing
Hath taught me how noble thou art.

MEDEA

O Zeus, Zeus' daughter Justice, Light of the Sun!

Over my foes triumphant now, my friends,
Shall we become : our feet are on the path
Now is there hope of vengeance on my foes
For this man, there where my chief weakness lay,
Hath for my plots a haven in storm appeared
To him my bark's stern-hawser make I fast, 770
To Pallas' burg and fortress when I go
And all my plots to thee will I tell now,
Nor look I that my words should pleasure thee.—
One of mine household will I send to Jason,
And will entreat him to my sight to come,
And soft words, when he cometh, will I speak,
Saying, "Thy will is mine," and, "It is well";
Saying, his royal marriage, my betrayal,
Is our advantage, and right well devised.
I will petition that my sons may stay— 780
Not for that I would leave on hostile soil
Children of mine for foes to trample on,
But the king's daughter so by guile to slay
For I will send them bearing gifts in hand
Unto the bride, that they may not be banished,
A robe fine-spun, a golden diadem.
If she receive and don mine ornaments,
Die shall she wretchedly, and all who touch her;
With drugs so dread will I anoint my gifts
Howbeit here I pass this story by, 790
And wail the deed that yet for me remains

To bring to pass , for I will slay my children,
Yea, mine : no man shall pluck them from mine hand

Then, having brought all Jason's house to wrack,
I leave the land, fleeing my dear babes' blood,
And having dared a deed most impious.

For unendurable are mocks of foes.

Let all go · what is life to me? Nor country

Nor home have I, nor refuge from mine ills

Then erred I, in the day when I forsook 800

My father's halls, by yon Greek's words beguiled,

Who with God's help shall render me requital.

For never living shall he see henceforth

The sons I bare him, nor shall he beget

A son of his new bride, that wretch foredoomed

In agony to die by drugs of mine.

Let none account me impotent, nor weak,

Nor spiritless!—O nay, in other sort,

Grim to my foes, and kindly to my friends.

Most glorious is the life of such as I 810

All friends that would fare through her land,
Receive a murderess banned,
Who had slaughtered her babes without pity,
A pollution amidst of her daughters? 850

In thine heart's thoughts set it before thee—
To murder the fruit of thy womb!
O think what it meaneth to slay
Thy sons—what a deed this day
Thou wouldst do! By thy knees we pray,
By heaven and earth we implore thee,
Deal not to thy babes such a doom!

(Ant. 2)

O whence, and O whence wilt thou gain thee
Such desperate hardihood
That for spirit so fiendish shall serve,
That shall strengthen thine heart, that shall nerve
Thine hand, that it shall not swerve
From the ruthless deed that shall stain thee
With horror of children's blood?

O how, when thine eyes thou art turning 860
On thy little ones, wilt thou refrain
The motherhood in thee, to feel
No upwelling of tears? Canst thou steel
Thy breast when thy children kneel,
To crimson thine hand, with unyearning
Heart for thy darlings slain?

JASON

MEDEA

Jason, I ask thee to forgive the words
Late-spoken. Well thou mayest gently bear 870
With my wild mood, for all the old love's sake.
Now have I called myself to account, and railed
Upon myself—"Wretch, wherefore am I mad?
And wherefore rage against good counsellors,
And am at feud with rulers of the land,
And with my lord, who works my veriest good,
Wedding a royal house, to raise up brethren
Unto my sons? Shall I not cease from wrath?
What aileth me, when the Gods proffer boons?
Have I not children? Know I not that we 880
Are exiles from our own land, lacking friends?"
Thus musing, was I ware that I had nursed
Folly exceeding, anger without cause
Now then I praise thee : wise thou seem'st to me
In gaining us this kinship, senseless I,
Who in these counsels should have been thine
ally,
Have furthered all, have decked the bridal couch,
And joyed to minister unto the bride
But we are—women : needs not harsher word.
Yet shouldst thou not for evil render evil, 890
Nor pit against my folly folly of thine.
I yield, confessing mine unwisdom then,
But unto better counsels now am come
Children, my children, hither leave the house ;

[Enter CHILDREN.]

Come forth, salute your father, and with me
Bid him farewell : be reconciled to friends
Ye, with your mother, from the hate o'erpast.
Truce is between us, rancour hath given place.
Clasp ye his right hand. Woe for ambushed ills !

Ah children, will ye thus, through many a year
Living, still reach him loving arms? Ah me,
How weeping-ripe am I, how full of fear!
Feuds with your father ended—ah, so late!—
Have filled with tears these soft-relenting eyes.

CHORUS

And from mine eyes start tears of pale dismay.
Ah, may no evil worse than this befall!

JASON

Lady, I praise this mood, yet blame not that :
'Tis nothing strange that womankind should rage
When the spouse trafficketh in alien marriage 910
But now to better thoughts thine heart hath turned,
And thou, though late, hast seen which policy
Must win . a prudent woman's part is this
And for you, children, not unheedfully
Your sue hath ta'en much forethought, so help heaven

For ye, I ween, in this Corinthian land
Shall with your brethren stand the foremost yet.
Grow ye in strength : the rest shall by your sire,
And whatso God is gracious, be wrought out.
You may I see to goodly stature grown, 920
In manhood's prime, triumphant o'er my foes.
Thou, why with wan tears thus bedew thine eyes,
Turning away from them thy pallid cheek?
Why hear'st thou not with gladness thus my speech?

MEDEA

MEDEA

MEDEA

I will be brave—will not mistrust thy words ;
But woman is but woman—born for tears

JASON

Why, hapless one, dost thou sigh over these ?

MEDEA

I bare them. When thou prayedst life for them, 930
Pity stole o'er me, whispering, " Shall this be ?"
But that for which thou cam'st to speech of me
In part is said , to speak the rest is mine :
Since the king pleaseth forth the land to send me,—
Yea, for me too 'tis best, I know it well,
That I bide not, a stumblingblock to thee
And the land's lords, whose house's foe I seem,— Lo, from this land I fare to exile forth .
But, that my sons by thine hand may be reared,
Entreat thou Creon that they be not banished. 940

JASON

Prevail I may not, yet must I essay.

MEDEA

Nay then, thy bride bid thou to pray her sire
That thy sons be not banished from this land.

JASON

Yea surely ; and, I trow, her shall I win.

MEDEA

If of her sister women she is one.
I too will bear a part in thine endeavour ;
For I will send her gifts outrivalling far
In beauty aught in these days seen, I know,
A robe fine-spun, a golden diadem ;
Our sons to bear them Now must an attendant 950
With all speed hither bring the ornaments

Blessings shall hers be, not one, but untold,
Who winneth thee for lord, a peerless spouse,
Who owneth ornaments which once the Sun,
My father's father, to his offspring gave !

Enter handmaid with casket.

Take in your hands, my sons, these bridal gifts,
And to the happy princess-bride bear ye
And give—my gifts she shall not lightly esteem !

JASON

But, fond one, why make void thine hands of these ?
Deem'st thou a royal house hath lack of robes, 980
Or gold, deem'st thou ? Keep these and give them not.
For, if my wife esteems me aught, my wish
Will she prefer to treasures, well I wot.

MEDEA

Nay, speak not so : gifts sway the Gods, they say
Gold weigheth more with men than countless words
Hers fortune is ; God favoureth now her cause—
Young, and a queen ! Life would I give for ransom
Of my sons' banishment, not gold alone
Now, children, enter ye the halls of wealth.
Unto your sire's new wife, my lady-queen, 970
Make supplication, pray ye be not exiled,
And give mine ornaments—most importeth this,
'That she in her own hands receive my gifts
Haste ye, and to your mother bring glad tidings
Of good success in that she longs to win

[Exeunt JASON and CHILDREN.

CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN

Mistress, remission for thy sons of exile !
Thy gifts the princess-bride with joy received
In hand ; and there is peace unto thy sons
Ha !

Why dost thou stand confounded mid good hap ?
Now wherefore turnest thou thy face away,
And dost not hear with gladness this my speech ?

MEDEA

Woe's me !

CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN

This cly is to the tidings not attuned.

MEDEA

Woe yet again !

CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN

Can I have brought ill hap
Unwitting—erred in deeming these glad tidings ? 1010

MEDEA

As they are, are thy tidings . thee I blame not.

CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN

Why down-drooped is thine eye ? Why flow thy tears ?

MEDEA

Needs must they, ancient ; for these things the Gods
And I withal—O fool !—have ill contrived.

CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN

Fear not : thy children yet shall bring thee home.

MEDEA

Others ere then shall I send home—ah me !

CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN

Not thou alone art severed from thy sons.
Submissively must mortals bear mischance.

This will I . but within the house go thou,
And for my children's daily needs prepare 1020

[Exit CHILDREN'S GUARDIAN.]

O children, children, yours a city is,
And yours a home, where, leaving wretched me,
Ye shall abide, for ever motherless!
I shall go exiled to another land,
Ere I have joyed in you, have seen your bliss,
Ere I have decked for you the couch, the bride,
The bridal bower, and held the torch on high.
O me accurst in this my desperate mood!
For naught, for naught, my babes, I nurtured you,
And all for naught I laboured, travail-worn, 1030
Bearing sharp anguish in your hour of birth
Ah for the hopes—unhappy '—all mine hopes
Of ministering hands about mine age,
Of dying folded round with loving arms,
All men's desue ' But now—'tis past—'tis past,
That sweet imagining! Forlorn of you
A bitter life and woeful shall I waste
Your mother never more with loving eyes
Shall ye behold, passed to another life
Woe! woe! why gaze your eyes on me, my darlings? 1040

Why smile to me the latest smile of all?
Alas! what shall I do? Mine heart is failing
As I behold the light in my sons' eyes!
Women, I cannot! farewell, purposes
O'erpast! I take my children from the land.
What need to wring their father's heart with ills
Of these, to gain myself ills twice so many?
Not I, not I! Ye purposes, farewell!
Yet—yet—what ails me? Would I earn derision,

 Oh! oh!

O heart, mine heart, do not—do not this deed!
 Let them be, wretched heart, spare thou my babes!
 There dwelling with me shall they gladden thee.
 No!—by the nether fiends that dwell with Hades,
 Never shall this betide, that I will leave 1060
 My children for my foes to trample on!

CHORUS

I

Full oft ere this my soul hath scaled
Lone heights of thought, empyreal steeps,
Or plunged far down the darkling deeps,
Where woman's feebler heart hath failed:—

Yet wherefore failed? Should woman find
No inspiration thrill her breast,
Nor welcome ever that sweet guest
Of Song, that uttereth Wisdom's mind?

Alas! not all! Few, few are they,— Perchance amid a thousand one
Thou shouldst find,—for whom the sun
Of poesy makes an inner day.

II

Now thus I say—calm bliss, that ne'er
Knew love's wild fever of the blood,
The pangs, the joys, of motherhood,
Passeth all parents' joy-blent care

1090

The childless, they that never prove
If sunshine comes, or cloud, to men
With babes—far lie beyond their ken
The toils, the griefs, of parent-love.

But they whose halls with flowerets sweet
Of childhood bloom—I mark them aye
Care-fietted, travelling away
To win their loved ones nurture meet.

For though ye get you wealth enow,

MESSENGER

What say'st? Of sound mind art thou, and not mad,

Who, hearing of the havoc of the hearth 1130
Of kings, art glad, and hast no fear for this?

MEDEA

O yea . I too with words of controversy
Could answer thee —yet be not hasty, friend,
But tell how died they . thou shouldst gladden me
Doubly, if these most horribly have perished.

MESSENGER

When, with their father, came thy children twain,
And passed into the halls for marriage decked,
Glad were we thralls who sorrowed for thy woes;
And straightway buzzed from ear to ear the tale 1140
Of truce to old feuds 'twixt thy lord and thee.
One kissed the hand, and one the golden head
Of those thy sons . myself by joy drawn on Followed thy children to the women's bowers.
Now she which had our worship in thy stead,
Ere she beheld thy chariot-yoke of sons,
Aye upon Jason turned her yearning gaze.
But then before her eyes she cast her veil,
And swept aback the scorn of her white neck,
Loathing thy sons' approach ; but now thy lord,
To turn the maiden's wrath and spite aside, 1150
Thus spake : " Nay, be not hostile to thy friends :
Cease from thine anger, turn thine head again,
Accounting friends whomso thy spouse accounts
Their gifts receive, and plead thou with thy sire

To pardon these their exile—for my sake "
She, when she saw the attire, could not refrain,
But yielded her lord all And ere their father
Far from her bower with those thy sons had gone,
She took the rich-wrought robes and clad herself,
Circling her ringlets with the golden crown, 1160
And by a shining mirror ranged her tresses,
Smiling at her own phantom image there.
Then, rising from her seat, adown the halls
She paced with mincing tread of ivory feet,
Exulting in the gifts, and oftentimes
Sweeping her glance from neck to ankle-hem.
But then was there a fearful sight to see
Suddenly changed her colour : reeling back
With trembling limbs she goes ; and scarce in time

Drops on the couch to fall not on the ground. 1170

Then a grey handmaid, deeming peradventure
That frenzy was of Pan or some God sent,
Raised the prayer-cry, before she saw the foam
White-frothing from her lips, or marked how rolled
Her eyeballs, and her face's bloodless hue ;
Then a long cry of horror, not of prayer,
She shrilled forth. Straight to her father's chambers one

Darted, and one unto her new-made spouse,
To tell the bride's affliction : all the roof
Echoed with multitudinous-hurrying feet. 1180
And a swift athlete's straining limbs had paced
By this the full length of the furlong course,
When she from trance all speechless of closed eyes
In anguish woke with horrible-shrilling shriek ;
For like two charging hosts her torment came :—
The golden coil about her head that lay

'Gan spurt a marvellous stream of ravening fire :
 The delicate robes, the gift thy children brought,
 Had fangs to gnaw her delicate tortured flesh !
 Upstarting from her seat she flees, all flame, 119
 Shaking her hair, her head, this way and that,
 To cast from her the crown , but firmly fixed
 The gold held fast its grip · the fire, whene'er
 She shook her locks, with doubled fury blazed.
 Then agony-vanquished falls she on the floor,
 Marred past all knowledge, save for a father's eyes.
 No more was seen her cyes' imperial calm,
 No more her comely features ; but the gore
 Dripped from her head's crown flecked with blended fire.

The flesh-flakes from her bones, like the pine's tears, 120
 'Neath that mysterious drug's devourings melted,—
 Dread sight !—and came on all folk fear to touch
 The corpse · her hideous fate had we for warning.

But, ignorant of all, her wretched sire,
 Suddenly entering, falls upon her corpse,
 And straightway wailed and clasped the body round,
 And kissed it, crying, " O my hapless child,
 What God thus horribly hath thee destroyed ?
 Who maketh this old sepulchre bereft
 Of thee ? Ah me, would I might die with thee !" 121
 But when from wailing and from moans he ceased,
 Fain would he have upraised his aged frame,
 Yet clave, as ivy clings to laurel boughs.
 To the filmy robes · then was a ghastly wrestling ;
 For, while he strained to upraise his knee, she seemed

To upwrithe and grip him : if by force he haled,
 Torn from the very bones was his old flesh.
 Life's light at last quenched, he gave up the ghost,

Ill-starred, down-sinking 'neath destruction's sea
There lie the corpses, child by grey old sire 1220
Clasped ;—such affliction tears, not words, must mourn.

And of thy part no word be said by me :—
Thyself from punishment wilt find escape
But man's lot now, as oft, I count a shadow,
Nor fear to say that such as seem to be
In wit most keen of men, most subtle of speech,
Even these pay heaviest penalty of all ;
For among mortals happy man is none
In fortune's flood-tide might a man become

Come, wretched hand of mine, grasp thou the sword ;
Grasp !—on to the starting-point of a blasted life !

(Str.)

O Earth, O all-revealing splendour
Of the Sun, look down on a woman accurst,
Or ever she slake the murder-thirst
Of a mother whose hands would smite the tender
Fruit of her womb
Look down, for she sprang of thy lineage golden :
Man's vengeance threatens—thy seed are holden
'Neath the shadow of doom !
But thou, O heaven-begotten glory,
Restrain her, refrain her : the wretched, the gory
Erinyes by demons dogged, we implore thee, 1260
Snatch thou from yon home !

(Ant.)

For naught was the childbirth-travail wasted,
For naught didst thou bear them, the near
and the dear,
O thou who hast fled through the Pass of Fear,
From the dark-blue Clashing Crag who hast hasted
Speeding thy flight !
Alas for her !—wherefore hath grim wrath stirred her
Through depths of her soul, that ruthless murder

Her wrongs must requite ?

For stein upon mortals the vengeance falleth
For kin's blood spilt ; from the earth it calleth,
A voice from the Gods, and the slayers appalleth
On whose homes it shall light. 1270

How?—slew them? Where?—within, without, the halls?

CHORUS (pointing to pavement before doors)

Open, and thou shalt see thy children's corpses.

JASON

Burst in the bolts with all speed, serving-men—
Force hinges!—let me see this twofold horror,—
The dead, and her,—and in her blood avenge me!

MEDEA appears above the palace roof in a chariot drawn by dragons.

MEDEA

Why shakest thou these doors and wouldst unbar,
Seeking thy dead and me who wrought the deed?
Cease this essay If thou wouldst aught of me,
Say what thou wilt: thine hand shall touch me never 1320
Such chariot hath my father's sire, the Sun,
Given me, a defence from foeman's hand.

JASON

O thing abhorred! O woman hatefulest
To Gods, to me, to all the race of men,
Thou that couldst thrust the sword into the babes
Thou bar'st, and me hast made a childless ruin!
Thus hast thou wrought, yet look'st thou on the sun
And earth, who hast dared a deed most impious?
Now ruin seize thee!—clear I see, who saw not
Then, when from halls and land barbarian 1330
To a Greek home I bare thee, utter bane,
Traitor to sire and land that nurtured thee!
Thy guilt's curse-bolt on me the Gods have launched;
For thine own brother by his hearth thou slewest
Ere thou didst enter fair-prowed Argo's hull.
With such deeds thou begannest. Wedded then

To this man, and the mother of my sons,
For wedlock-right's sake hast thou murdered them
There is no Grecian woman that had dared
This —yet I stooped to marry thee, good sooth, 1340
Rather than these, a hateful bride and fell,
A tigress, not a woman, harbouring
A fiercer nature than Tyrihenian Scylla.
But—for untold revilings would not sting
Thee, in thy nature is such hardihood —
Avaunt, thou miscreant stained with thy babes' blood !

For me remains to wail my destiny,
Who of my new-wed bride shall have no joy,
And to the sons whom I begat and nurtured
Living I shall not speak—lost, lost to me ! 1350

ARGUMENT

APOLLO, being banished for a season from Olympus, and condemned to do service to a mortal, became herdsman of Admetus, King of Phærae in Thessaly. Yet he loathed not his earthly taskmaster, but loved him, for that he was a just man, and hospitable exceedingly. Wherefore he obtained from the Fates this boon for Admetus, that, when his hour of death should come, they should accept in ransom for his life the life of whosoever should have before consented to die in his stead. Now when this was made known, none of them which were nearest by blood to the king would promise to be his ransom in that day. Then Alcestis his wife, the daughter of Pelæus King of Iolcos, pledged her to die for him. Of her love she did it, and for the honour of wifehood. And the years passed by, and the tale was told in many lands; and all men praised Alcestis, but Admetus bore a burden of sorrow, for day by day she became dearer to him, a wife wholly true, a mother most loving, and a lady to her thralls gentle exceedingly. But when it was known by tokens that the day was come, Admetus repented him sorely, but it availed not, for no mortal may recall a pledge once given to the Gods. And on that day there came to the palace Apollo to plead with Death for Alcestis' sake; and a company of Elders of Phærae, to ask of her state and to make mourning for her. And when she was dead, ere she was borne forth to burial, came Hercules, son of Zeus, in his journeying, seeking the guest's right of meat and lodging, but not knowing aught of that which had come to pass. Of him was a great deliverance wrought, which is told herein.

HALLS of Admetus, hail ! I stooped my pride
Here to brook fare of serfs, yea I, a God !
The fault was fault of Zeus : he slew my son
Asclepius—hurled the levin through his heart.
Wroth for the dead, his smiths of heavenly fire,
The Cyclopes, I slew, for blood-atonement
Allfather made me serf to a mortal man

To this land came I, tended mine host's kine,
And warded still his house unto this day
Righteous myself, I found a righteous man, 10
The son of Phœbes : him I snatched from death,
Cozening the Fates the Sisters promised me—
"Admetus shall escape the imminent death
If he for ransom gives another life "
To all he went—all near and dear,—and asked
Father and grey-haired mother who gave him life ;

But, save his wife, found none that would consent
For him to die and never more see light
Now in his arms upborne within yon home
She gaspeth forth her life . for on this day 20
Her weird it is to die and fleet from life.
I, lest pollution taint me in their house,
Go forth of yonder hall's belovèd roof { Enter DEATH.
Lo, yonder Death ;—I see him nigh at hand,

Surely thou shalt forbear, though ruthless thou,
So mighty a man to Pheres' halls shall come,
Sent of Eurystheus forth, the courser-car
From winter-dreary lands of Thrace to bring.
Guest-welcomed in Admetus' palace here,
By force yon woman shall he wrest from thee.
Yea, thou of me shalt have no thank for this,
And yet shalt do it, and shalt have mine hate.

[Exit APOLLO.]

DEATH

Talk on, talk on : no profit shalt thou win
This woman down to Hades' halls shall pass.
For her I go : my sword shall seal her ours :
For consecrated to the Nether Gods
Is every head whose hair this sword hath shorn.

[Exit DEATH.]

HALF-CHORUS 1

What meaneth this hush afront of the hall?
The home of Admetus, why voiceless all?

HALF-CHORUS 2

No friend of the house who should speak of its plight
Is nigh, who should bid that we raise the keen
For the dead, or should tell us that yet on the light
Alcestis looketh, and liveth the Queen,
The daughter of Pelias, noblest, I ween—
Yea, in all men's sight
Most leal to her lord of all wives hath she been

But hither cometh of the handmaids one,
Weeping the while. What tidings shall I hear?
For all afflictions that befall thy lords
Well mayst thou grieve ; but if thy lady lives
Or even now hath passed, fain would we know. 140

HANDMAID

She liveth, and is dead : both mayst thou say.

Ay so !—how should the same be dead and live ?

HANDMAID

Noblest?—how not?—what tongue will dare gain-

What must the woman be who passeth her?
How could a wife give honour to her lord
More than by yielding her to die for him?
And this—yea, all the city knoweth this;
But what within she did, hear thou, and marvel.
For when she knew that the appointed day
Was come, in river-water her white skin 160
She bathed, and from the cedar-chests took forth
Vesture and jewels, and decked her gloriously,
And before Vesta's altar stood, and prayed.
"Queen, for I pass beneath the earth, I fall
Before thee now, and nevermore, and pray:—
Be mother to my orphans: mate with him
A loving wife, with her a noble husband.
Nor, as their mother dieth, so may they,
My children, die untimely, but with weal
In the home-land fill up a life of bliss"
To all the altars through Admetus' halls [prayed, 170
She went, with wreaths she hung them, and she Plucking the while the tresses of the myrtle,
Tearless, unsighing, and the imminent fate
Changed not the lovely rose-tint of her cheek.
Then to her bower she rushed, fell on the bed;

And there, O there she wept, and thus she speaks :
 "O couch, whereon I loosed the maiden zone
 For this man, for whose sake I die to-day,
 Farewell : I hate thee not. Me hast thou slain,
 Me only : loth to fail thee and my lord 180
 I die ; but thee another bride shall own,
 Not more true-hearted ; happier perchance."
 Then falls thereon, and kisses · all the bed
 Is watered with the flood of melting eyes.
 But having wept her fill of many tears,
 Drooping she goeth, reeling from the couch ;
 Yet oft, as forth the bower she passed, returned,
 And flung herself again upon the bed.
 And the babes, clinging to their mother's robes,
 Were weeping ; and she clasped them in her arms, 190

Fondling now this, now that, as one death-doomed.
 And all the servants 'neath the roof were weeping,
 Pitying their lady. But to each she stretched
 Her right hand forth ; and none there was so mean

To whom she spake not and received reply.
 Such are the ills Admetus' home within.
 Now, had he died, he had ended ; but, in 'scaping,
 He bears a pain that he shall ne'er forget.

CHORUS

Doth not Admetus groan for this affliction
 Of such a noble wife to be bereft ? 200

HANDMAID

Ay, weeps, and clasps his dear one in his arms,
 And prays, "Forsake me not !"—asking the while
 The impossible, for still she wanes and wastes,
 Drooping her hand, a misery-burdened weight ;
 But yet, albeit hardly breathing still,

ALCESTIS

Of the pinions of Hades, the blaze of his eyes 'neath their caverns out-glaring ?
What wouldst thou ?—Unhand me !—In anguish and pain by what path am I faring !

ADMETUS

Woeful to them that love thee : most to me
And to thy babes, sad sharers in this grief.

ALCESTIS

Let be—let me sink back to rest me : (Epode)
There is no strength left in my feet.
Hades is near, and the night
Is darkening down on my sight.
Darlings, farewell : on the light
Long may ye look :—I have blessed ye
Ere your mother to nothingness fleet.

270

ADMETUS

Ah me ! for thy word rusheth bitterness o'er me,
Bitterness passing the anguish of death !
Forsake me not now, by the Gods I implore thee.
By the babes thou wilt orphan, O yield not thy breath !
Look up, be of cheer : if thou diest, before me
Is nothingness. Laving, we aye live thine,
And we die in thy death, for our hearts are a shrine
Wherein for thy love passing word we adore thee !

ALCESTIS

Admetus,—for thou seest all my plight,—
Fain would I speak mine heart's wish ere I die.
I, honouring thee, and setting thee in place
Before mine own soul still to see this light,
Am dying, unconstrained to die for thee.
I might have wed what man Thessalian
I would, have dwelt wealth-crowned in princely halls;

ALCESTIS

Yet would not live on, torn away from thee,
 With orphaned children . wherefore spared I not
 The gifts of youth still mine, wherein I joyed.
 Yet she that bare, he that begat, forsook thee, 290
 Though fair for death their time of life was come,
 Yea, fair, to save their son and die renowned
 Their only one wert thou : no hope there was
 To get them sons thereafter, hadst thou died.
 So had I lived, and thou, to after days :
 Thou wert not groaning, of thy wife bereaved,
 Thy children motherless    Howbeit this
 Some God hath brought to pass : it was to be.
 So be it.    Remember thou what thank is due
 For this,—I never can ask full requital ; 300
 For naught there is more precious than the life,—
 And justly due ; for these thy babes thou lovest
 No less than I, if that thine heart be right.
 Suffer that they have lordship in mine home :
 Wed not a stepdame to supplant our babes,
 Whose heart shall tell her she is no Alcestis, Whose jealous hand shall smite them, thine and mine.
 Do not, ah, do not this—I pray thee, I !
 For the new stepdame hateth still the babes
 Of her that's gone with more than viper-venom. 310
 The boy—his father is his tower of strength
 To whom to speak, of whom to win reply ;
 But, O my child, what girlhood will be thine ?
 To thee what would she be, thy father's yoke-mate ?
 What if with ill report she smirched thy name,
 And in thy youth's flower marred thy marriage-hopes ?
 For thee thy mother ne'er shall deck for bridal,
 Nor hearten thee in travail, O my child,

There, where naught gentler than the mother is
For I must die ; nor shall it be to-morn, 320
Nor on the third day comes on me this doom :
Straightway of them that are not shall I be.
Farewell, be happy Now for thee, my lord,
Abides the boast to have won the noblest wife,
For you, my babes, to have sprung from noblest mother.

CHORUS

Fear not ; for I am bold to speak for him :
This will he do, an if he be not mad.

ADMETUS

It shall, it shall be, fear not : thou alone
Living wast mine ; and dead, mine only wife 330
Shalt thou be called : nor ever in thy stead
Shall bride Thessalian hail me as her lord.
None is there of a father so high-born,
None so for beauty peerless among women.
Children enough have I : I pray the Gods
For joy in these—lost is our joy in thee !
Not for a year's space will I mourn for thee,
But long as this my life shall last, dear wife,
Loathing my mother, hating mine own sire,
For in word only, not in deed, they loved me. 340
Thou gav'st in ransom for my life thine all
Of precious, and didst save Do I not well
To groan, who lose such yokefellow in thee ?
Revels shall cease, and gatherings at the wine,
Garlands, and song, which wont to fill mine house.
No, never more mine hand shall touch the lyre :
Nor will I lift up heart to sing to flute
Of Libya stolen is life's joy with thee
Fashioned by craftsmen's cunning hands, thy form

Imaged, shall lie as sleeping on a bed,
Falling whereon, and clasping with mine hands, 350
Calling thy name, in fancy shall mine arms
Hold my beloved, though I hold her not :—
A drear delight, I wot : yet shall I lift
The burden from my soul In dreams shalt thou
Haunt me and gladden : sweet to see the loved,
Though but as fleeting phantoms of the night.

But, were the tongue and strain of Orpheus mine,
To witch Demeter's Daughter and her lord,
And out of Hades by my song to win thee,
I had fared down ; nor Pluto's Hound had stayed 360
me,

Nor Spirit-wafter Charon at the oar,
Or ever I restored thy life to light
Yet there look thou for me, whenso I die :
Prepare a home, as who shall dwell with me.
For in the selfsame cedar chest, wherein
Thou liest, will I bid them lay my bones
At thy side : never, not in death, from thee,
My one true loyal love, may I be sundered !

CHORUS

Yea, I withal will mourn, as friend with friend,
With thee for this thy wife, for she is worthy. 370

ALCESTIS

And thou, little maiden, my sister, the burden hast taken, hast taken,
Which thy brother may bear not alone, and a weariful lot shall be thine. 410
O father, of long-living love was thy marriage un-cherished, uncherished .
Thou hast won not the goal of old age with the love of thy youth at thy side ;
For, or ever she came to the fulness of days, she hath perished, hath perished ;
And the home is a wreck and a ruin, for thou, O my mother, hast died !

CHORUS

Admetus, this affliction must thou bear.
Not first of mortals thou, nor thou the last
Hast lost a noble wife ; and, be thou sure,
From us, from all, this debt is due—to die.

ADMETUS

I know it : nowise unforeseen this ill 420
Hath swooped on me . long anguished I foreknew it.
But—for to burial must I bear my dead—
Stay ye, and, tarrying, echo back my wail
To that dark God whom no drunk-offerings move.
And all Thessalians over whom I rule
I bid take part in mourning for this woman
With shaven head and sable-shrouding robe.
And ye which yoke the cars four-horsed, or steeds
Of single frontlet, shear with steel their manes
Music of flutes the city through, or lyres, 430
Be none, while twelve moons round their circles out :
For dearer dead, or kinder unto me
I shall not bury . worthy of mine honour
Is she, for she alone hath died for me.

CHORUS

O Pelias' daughter, I hail thee : (Str. 1)
I wave thee eternal farewell
To thine home where the darkness must veil thee,
Where in Hades unsunned thou shalt dwell
Know, Dark-haired, thy grey Spirit-wafter
Hath sped not with twy-plashing oar 440
Woman nobler, nor shall speed hereafter
To Acheron's shore.

For the seven-stringed shell, or for pæan (Ant. 1)
Unharped, shall thy fame be a song,
When o'er Sparta the moon Carnean
High rideth the whole night long. 450
And in Athens the wealthy and splendid Shall thy name on her bards' lips ring ;
Such a theme hast thou left to be blended
With the lays that they sing.

O that the power were but in me, (Str. 2)
From the chambers of Hades, to light,
And from streams of Cocytus, to win thee
With the oar of the River of Night !
O dead among women, strong-hearted 460
From Hades to ransom thy lord !
Never spirit in such wise departed.
Light lie on thee, Lady, the sword !
And, if ever thine husband shall mate him
Again with a bride in thy stead,
I will loathe him, his children shall hate him,
The babes of the dead.

When his mother would not be contented (Ant 2)
To hide her for him in the tomb,
Nor his grey-haired father consented,
Unholpen he looked on his doom. [not,
Whom they baie—the hard-hearted !—they cared 4
Though hoary their locks were, to save !
Thou art gone, for thy great love spared not
Thy blossom of youth from the grave.
Ah, may it be mine, such communion
Of hearts !—'tis vouchsafed unto few :—
Then ours should be sorrowless union
Our life-days through

Enter HERCULES.

HERCULES

Strangers, who dwell in this Pheraean land,
Say, do I find Admetus in his home ?

CHORUS

Hercules, in his home is Pheres' son
Yet say, what brings thee to Thessalian land,
That thou shouldst come to this Pheraean town ? 4

HERCULES

A toil for King Eurystheus, lord of Tiryns

CHORUS

And whither journeyest ? To what wanderings yoked ?

HERCULES

For Thracian Diomedes' four-hoised car.

CHORUS

How canst thou ? Sure he is unknown to thee !

HERCULES

Unknown : Bistonian land I never saw.

CHORUS

Not save by battle may those steeds be won.

HERCULES

Yet flinch I may not from the appointed toils.

CHORUS

Thy life or his—a triumph or a grave

HERCULES

Not this the first time I have run such course

CHORUS

What profit is it if thou slay their lord?

490

HERCULES

Those steeds shall I drive back to Tiryns' king.

CHORUS

Hard task, to set the bit betwixt their jaws.

HERCULES

That shall I, if their nostrils breathe not fire.

CHORUS

Yea, but with ravening jaws do they rend men.

HERCULES

Go to—thus mountain-wolves, not horses, feast.

CHORUS

Nay, thou canst see their cribs besprent with gore.

HERCULES

Whom boasteth he for father, he that reared them?

CHORUS

Aies, the lord of Thracia's golden shields

HERCULES

Thou say'st: such toil my fate imposeth still,
Harsh evermore, uphillward straining aye,
If I must still in battle close with sons
Gotten of Ares; with Lycaon first,
And Cynus then; and lo, I come to grapple—
The third strife this—with yon steeds and their lord.

Enter ADMETUS.

ADMETUS

Joy to thee, sprung from Zeus' and Perseus' blood !

HERCULES

Admetus, joy to thee, Thessalia's king ! 510

ADMETUS (aside)

Joy ?—would 'twere mine ! (aloud) Thanks !—thy good heart I know.

HERCULES

Wherefore for mourning shaven show'st thou thus ?

ADMETUS

This day must I commit to earth a corpse.

HERCULES

Now heaven forbend thou mourn'st for children dead !

ADMETUS

In mine home live the babes whom I begat.

HERCULES

Sooth, death-ripe were thy sire, if he be gone.

ADMETUS

He liveth, and my mother, Hercules.

HERCULES

Surely, O surely, not thy wife, Admetus ?

ADMETUS

Twofold must be mine answer touching her.

HERCULES

Or hath she died, say'st thou, or liveth yet ? 520

ADMETUS

She is, and she is not : here lies my grief.

ADMETUS

How lives she then, if she to this consented ?

HERCULES

Mourn not thy wife ere dead . abide the hour

ADMETUS

One doomed is dead ; the dead hath ceased to be.

HERCULES

Diverse are these—to be and not to be.

ADMETUS

This, Hercules, thy sentence . that is mine.

HERCULES

But now, why weep'st thou ? What dear friend is dead ? 530

ADMETUS

A woman—hers the memory we mourn.

HERCULES

Some stranger born, or nigh of kin to thee ?

ADMETUS

A stranger born : yet near and dear to us.

HERCULES

How died a stranger then in house of thine ?

ADMETUS

An orphan here she dwelt, her father dead.

HERCULES

Ay so ?—what purpose lurketh 'neath thy word ?

HERCULES

On will I to another host's hearth-welcome.

ADMETUS

It cannot be · may no such grief befall !

HERCULES

A burden unto mourners comes the guest. 540

ADMETUS

Dead are the dead :—but enter thou mine house.

HERCULES

'Twere shame to banquet in the house of weeping.

ADMETUS

Aloof the guest-halls are where we will lodge thee.

HERCULES

Let me pass on : so earn my thanks untold.

ADMETUS

Unto another's hearth thou canst not go.

[To an attendant] Ho thou, lead on : open the guest-halls looking

Away from these our chambers Tell my stewards

To set on meat in plenty. Shut withal

The mid-court doors . it fits not that the guests,

The while they feast, hear wailings, and be vexed. 550

[Exit HERCULES]

CHORUS

What dost thou ?—such affliction at the door,

And guests for thee, Admetus ? Art thou mad ?

ADMETUS

But had I driven him from my home and city

Who came my guest, then hadst thou praised me more ?

Nay, verily · mine affliction so had grown

No less, and more inhospitable were I !

Had he one whit of mine afflictions known.
To some, I wot, not wise herein I seem,
Nor will such praise : but mine halls have not learnt
To thrust away nor to dishonour guests.

CHORUS

(Str. 1)

Halls thronged of the guests ever welcome, O dwelling
Of a hero, for ever the home of the free,
The Lord of the lyre-strings sweet beyond telling, 570
Apollo, hath deigned to sojourn in thee.
Amid thine habitations, a shepherd of sheep,
The flocks of Admetus he scorned not to keep,
While the shepherds' bridal-strains, soft-swelling
From his pipe, pealed over the slant-sloped lea

(Ant. 1)

And the spotted lynxes for joy of thy singing
Mixed with thy flocks, and from Othrys' dell 580
Trooped tawny lions : the witchery-winged
Notes brought dancing around thy shell,
Phoebus, the dappled fawn from the shadow
Of the tall-tressed pines tripping forth to the meadow,
Beating time to the chime of the rapture-ringing
Music, with light feet tranced by its spell.

(Str. 2)

Wherefore the flocks of my lord unnumbered
 By the Boebian mere fair-rippling stray : 590
 Where the steeds of the sun halt, darkness-cumbered,
 By Molossian mountains, far away
 The borders lie of his golden grain,
 And his rolling stretches of pasture-plain ;
 And the havenless beach Aegean hath slumbered
 Under Pelion long 'neath the peace of his sway.

(Ant. 2)

And now, with the tears from his eyes fast-raining,
 Wide hath he opened his doors to the guest,
 While newly his heart 'neath its burden is straining,
 For the wife that hath died in his halls distressed. 600
 For to honour's heights are the high-born lifted,
 And the good are with truest wisdom gifted ;
 And there broods on mine heart bright trust
 unwaning
 That the god-reverer shall yet be blest

ALCESTIS

None will gainsay : yet these calamities
We needs must bear, how hard to bear soever
Receive these ornaments, and let her pass
Beneath the earth : well may the corpse be honoured
Of her who for thy life's sake died, my son ; 620
Who made me not unchilded, left me not
Foilorn of thee to pine in woeful eld
In all her sisters' eyes she hath crowned her life
With glory, daring such a deed as this
O saviour of my son, who hast raised us up
In act to fall, all hail ! May bliss be thine
Even in Hades. Thus to wed, I say,
Profiteth men—or nothing-worth is marriage.

ADMETUS

Not bidden of me to her burial comest thou,
Nor count I thine the presence of a friend 630
Thine ornaments she never shall put on,
She shall be buried needing naught of thine.
Thou grieve !—thou shouldst have grieved in my death-hour !
Thou stood'st aloof—the old, didst leave the young
To die :—and wilt thou wail upon this corpse ?
Wast thou not, then, true father of my body ?
Did she that said she bare me, and was called Mother, not give me birth ? Of bondman blood
To thy wife's breast was I brought privily ?
Put to the test, thou showedst who thou art, 640
And I account me not thy true-born son.
Peerless of men in soulless cowardice !
So old, and standing on the verge of life,
Thou hadst no will, no heart hadst thou to die
For thine own son ! Ye let her die, a woman
Not of our house, whom I with righteous cause

μάτην ἄρ' οἱ γέροντες εὐχονται θανεῖν,
670 γῆρας ψέγοντες καὶ μακρὸν χρόνον βίου· ἦν δ' ἐγγὺς ἔλθῃ θάνατος, οὐδεὶς βούλεται θνήσκεν, τὸ γῆρας δ' οὐκέτ' ἔστ' αὐτοῖς βαρύν.

ΧΟΡΟΣ

παύσασθ', ἄλις γὰρ ἡ παρούσα συμφορά, ὦ παῖ· πατρός δέ μὴ παροξύνῃς φρένας.

ΦΕΡΗΣ

ὦ παῖ, τί ν' αὐχεῖς, πότερα Λυδὸν ἢ Φρύγα κακοῖς ἐλαύνειν ἀργυρώνητον σέθεν;

ALCESTIS

Might count alone my mother and my father.
Yet here was honour, hadst thou dared the strife,
In dying for thy son. A paltry space
To cling to life in any wise was left. 650
Then had I lived, and she, through days to come,
Nor I, left loins, should thus mine ills bemoan.
Yet all that may the fortunate betide
Fell to thy lot; in manhood's prime a king,
Me hadst thou son and heir unto thine house,
So that thou wast not, dying, like to leave
A childless home for stranger folk to spoil.

Nor canst thou say that flouting thy grey hairs
I had giv'n thee up to death, whose reverence
For thee was passing word:—and thus the thank 660
That thou and she that bare me render me!
Wherefore, make haste: beget thee other sons
To foster thy grey hairs, to compass thee
With death's observance, and lay out thy corpse.
Not I with this mine hand will bury thee.
For thee dead am I If I see the light,—
Another saviour found,—I call me son
To him, and loving fosterer of his age.
With false lips pray the old for death's release,
Plaining of age and weary-wearing time. 670
Let death draw near—who hails his coming? None:
No more is eld a burden unto them.

CHORUS

O hush! Suffice the affliction at the doors.
O son, infuriate not thy father's soul.

PHERES

Son, whom, think'st thou—some Lydian slave or Phrygian
Bought with thy money?—thus beratest thou?

ALCESTIS

What, know'st thou not that I Thessalian am,
 Sprung from Thessalian sire, free man true-born?
 This insolence passeth '—hurling malapert words
 On me, not lightly thus shalt thou come off! 680

Thee I begat and nurtured, of mine house
 The heir : no debt is mine to die for thee.
 Not from my sires such custom I received
 That sires for sons should die . no Greek law this Born for thyself wast thou, to fortune good
 Or evil : all thy dues from me thou hast
 O'er many folk thou rulest ; wide demesnes
 Shall I leave thee : to me my father left them.
 What is my wrong, my robbery of thee ? 690
 For me die thou not, I die not for thee.
 Thou joy'st to see light—shall thy father joy not ?
 Sooth, I account our time beneath the earth
 Long, and our life-space short, yet is it sweet
 Shamelessly hast thou fought against thy death :
 Thy life is but transgression of thy doom
 And murder of thy wife ' My cowardice !—
 This from thee, dastard, by a woman outdone
 Who died for thee, the glorious-gallant youth !

Cunning device hast thou devised to die
 Never, cajoling still wife after wife 700
 To die for thee '—and dost revile thy friends
 Who will not so—and thou the coward, thou ?
 Peace ! e'en bethink thee, if thou lov'st thy life,
 So all love theirs. Thou, if thou speakest evil
 Of us, shalt hear much evil, and that true

Enter SERVANT.

SERVANT

Full many a guest, from many a land which came Unto Admetus' dwelling, have I known,
Have set before them meat : but never guest
More pestilent received I to this hearth :
Who first, albert he saw my master mourning,
Entered, and passed the threshold unashamed ;
Then, nowise courteously received the fare
Found with us, though our woeful plight he knew,
But, what we brought not, hectoring bade us bring
The ivy cup uplifts he in his hands,
And swills the darkling mother's fiery blood,
Till the wine's flame enwrapped him, heating him.
Then did he wreathe his head with myrtle sprays,
Dissonant-howling. Diverse strains were heard :
For he sang on, regardless all of ills
Darkening Admetus' house ; we servants wept
Our mistress : yet we showed not to the guest
Eyes tear-bedewed, for so Admetus bade
And now within the house must I be feasting
This guest,—a lawless thief, a bandit rogue,
While forth the house she is borne ! I followe not,
Nor stretched the hand, nor wailed unto my mistre
Farewell, who was to me and all the household
A mother ; for from ills untold she saved us,
Assuaging her lord's wrath. Do I not well
To loathe this guest, intruder on our griefs ?

ALCESTIS

Enter HERCULES.

HERCULES

Ho, fellow, why this solemn brooding look?
The servant should not lower upon the guest,
But welcome him with kindly-beaming cheer.
Thou, seeing here in presence thy lord's friend,
With visage sour and cloud of knitted brows
Receiv'st him, fretting o'er an alien grief
Hither to me, that wiser thou mayst grow.
The lot of man—its nature knowest thou? 780
I trow not: how shouldst thou? Give ear to me.

From all mankind the debt of death is due,
Nor of all mortals is there one that knows
If through the coming morrow he shall live:
For trackless is the way of fortune's feet,
Not to be taught, nor won by art of man.
This hearing then, and learning it from me,
Make merry, drink: the life from day to day
Account thine own, all else in fortune's power.

Honour withal the sweetest of the Gods 790
To men, the Cyprian Queen—a gracious Goddess!
Away with other thoughts, and heed my words,
If thou dost think I speak wise words and true:
So think I. Hence with sorrow overwrought;
Rise above this affliction: drink with me,
Thy brows with garlands bound. Full well I wot,
From all this lowering spirit prison-pent
Thine anchor shall Sir Beaker's plash upheave
What, man!—the mortal must be mortal-minded.
So, for your solemn wights of knitted brows, 800
For each and all,—if thou for judge wilt take me,—
Life is not truly life, but mere affliction.

SERVANT

For shame he could not thrust thee from these doors.

HERCULES

O hapless ! what a helpmeet hast thou lost !

SERVANT

We have all perished, and not she alone.

HERCULES

I felt it, when I saw his tear-drowned eyes,
His shaven hair, his face : yet he prevailed,
Saying he bore a stranger-friend to burial.
I passed this threshold in mine heart's despite,
And drank in halls of him that loves the guest, 830
When thus his plight ! And am I revelling
With wreathed head ? O my friend, that thou shouldst say

Naught, when on thine home such affliction lay ! . .
Where doth he bury her ? Where shall I find her ?

SERVANT

By the straight path that leads Larissa-wards
Shalt see the hewn-stone tomb without the walls.

HERCULES

O much-enduring heart and hand of mine,
Now show what son the Lady of Tiryns bore,
Electryon's child Alcmena, unto Zeus.
For I must save the woman newly dead, 840

ALCESTIS

And set Alcestis in this house again,
 And render to Admetus good for good.
 I go The sable-vestured King of Corpses,
 Death, will I watch for, and shall find, I trow,
 Drinking the death-draught hard beside the tomb.
 And if I lie in wait, and dart from ambush,
 And seize, and with mine arms' coil compass him,
 None is there shall deliver from mine hands
 His straining sides, ere he yield up his prey
 Yea, though I miss the quarry, and he come not 850
 Unto the blood-clot, to the sunless homes
 Down will I fare of Coira and her King,
 And make demand I doubt not I shall lead
 Alcestis up, and give to mine host's hands,
 Who to his halls received, nor drave me thence,
 Albert smitten with affliction sore,
 But hid it, like a prince, respecting me
 Who is more guest-fain of Thessalians?
 Who in all Hellas? O, he shall not say
 That one so princely showed a base man kindness. 860

 returning from the funeral.*

ADMETUS

O hateful returning!
 O hateful to see
 Drear halls full of yearning
 For the lost—ah me!
 What aim or what rest have I?—silence or speech,
 of what help shall they be?
 Would God I were dead!
 O, I came from the womb
 To a destiny dread!
 Ah, those in the tomb—

How shelter mine head
'Neath thy roof, now the doom
Of my fate's dice changeth?—ah me, what change upon all things is come!
For with torches aflame
Of the Pelian pine,
And with bride-song I came
In that hour divine,
Upbearing the hand of a wife—thine hand, O
darling mine!
Followed revellers, raising
Acclaim : ever broke
From the lips of them praising,
Of the dead as they spoke,
And of me, how the noble, the children of kings,
Love joined 'neath his yoke. 920
But for bridal song
Is the wail for the dead,
And, for white-robed throng,

ADMETUS

Friends, I account the fortune of my wife
 Happier than mine, albeit it seem not so.
 For naught of grief shall touch her any more,
 And glorious rest she finds from many toils.
 But I, unmeet to live, my doom outrun,
 Shall drag out bitter days : I know it now. 940
 How shall I bear to enter this mine home ?
 Speaking to whom, and having speech of whom,
 Shall I find joy of entering ?—whither turn me ?
 The solitude within shall drive me forth,
 Whenso I see my wife's couch tenantless,
 And seats whereon she sat, and, 'neath the roof,
 All foul the floor ; when on my knees my babes
 Falling shall weep their mother, servants moan
 The peerless mistress from the mansion lost
 All this within : but from the world without 950
 Me shall Thessalian bridals chase, and throngs
 Where women gossip—oh, I shall not bear
 On these, young matrons like my wife, to look !
 And whatsoever foe I have shall scoff :
 “ Lo there who basely liveth—dared not die,
 “ But whom he wedded gave, a coward's ransom,
 “ And 'scaped from Hades. Count ye him a man ?
 “ He hates his parents, though himself was loth
 “ To die ! ” Such ill report, besides my griefs,
 Shall mine be Ah, what honour is mine to live, 960

I have mused on the words of the wise,
Of the mighty in song;
I have lifted mine heart to the skies,

No man draweth near, nor hath cried
To her image, nor victim hath died,
Averting her doom.

O Goddess, more mighty for ill
Come not upon me
Than in days overpast : for his will Even Zeus may in no wise fulfil
Unholpen of thee.

Steel is molten as water before thee, but never relenting came o'er thee,
Who art ruthless still.

 But O, let the worship and honour that we render to Gods rest upon her :
 Unto her let the wayfarer pray
 As he treadeth the pathway that tiendeth 1000
 Aside from the highway, and bendeth
 At her shine, he shall say :
 " Her life for her lord's was given ,
 With the Blest now abides she on high.
 Hail, Queen, show us grace from thine

ALCESTIS

I wreathed mine head, I spilled unto the Gods
Drink-offerings in a stricken house, even thine.
I blame thee, thus mishandled, yea, I blame ;
Yet nowise is my will to gall thy grief.

But wherefore hither turning back I come,
This will I tell. Take, guard for me this maid, 1020
Till, leading hitherward the Thracian mares,
I come from slaughter of Bistonia's lord.
But if I fall—no, no ! I must return !—
I give her then, for service of thine halls.
Prize of hard toil unto mine hands she came :
For certain men I found but now arraying
An athlete-strife, toil-worthy, for all comers,
Whence I have won and bring this victor's meed.

Horses there were for them to take which won
The light foot's triumph ; but for hero-strife, 1030
Boxing and wrestling, oxen were the guerdon ;
A woman made it richer. Shame it seemed
To hap thereon, and slip this glorious gain.
But, as I said, this woman be thy care ;
For no thief's prize, but toil-achieved, I bring her.
Yea, one day thou perchance shalt say 'twas well.

ADMETUS

Not flouting thee, nor counting among foes,
My wife's unhappy fate I hid from thee
But this had been but grief uppled on grief,
Hadst thou sped hence to be another's guest ; 1040
And mine own ills sufficed me to bewail
Yon maid—I pray thee, if it may be, prince,
Bid some Thessalian ward her, who hath not Suffered as I : thou hast many friends in Phærae
Oh, waken not remembrance of my grief !

ΧΟΡΟΣ

- 1070 ἐγὼ μὲν οὐκ ἔχοιμ' ἂν εὖ λέγειν τύχην·
 χρὴ δ', ὅστις εἰσι, καρτερεῖν θεοῦ δόσιν.

ΗΡΑΚΛΗΣ

εἰ γὰρ τοσαύτην δύναμιν εἶχον ὥστε σὴν εἰς φῶς πορεύσαι νερετέρων ἐκ δωμάτων γυναῖκα καὶ σοὶ τήνδε πορσύναι χάριν.

ALCESTIS

I could not, seeing her mine halls within,
Be tearless : add not hurt unto mine hurt ;
Burdened enough am I by mine affliction.
Nay, in mine house where should a young maid lodge?—

For vesture and adorning speak her young — 1050
What, 'neath the men's roof shall her lodging be?
And how unsullied, dwelling with young men?
Not easy is it, Hercules, to curb
The young : herein do I take thought for thee.
Or shall I ope to her my dead wife's bower?
How !—cause her to usurp my lost love's bed?
Twofold reproach I dread—first, from my folk,
Lest any say that, traitor to my saviour,
I fall upon another woman's bed,
Then, from my dead wife—oh, she is reverence-
worthy !— 1060

Of her must I be heedful. Woman, thou,
Whoso thou art, know that thy body's stature
Is as Alceſtis, and thy form as hers.
Ah me !—lead, for the Gods' sake, from my sight
This woman ! Take not my captivity captive
For, as I look on her, methinks I see
My wife: she stirs mine heart with turmoil : fountains
Of tears burst from mine eyes O wretched I !
Now first I taste this grief's full bitterness.

CHORUS

In sooth thy fortune can I not commend : 1070
Yet all Heaven's visitations must we bear.

HERCULES

O that such might I had as back to bring
To light thy wife from nethergloom abodes,
And to bestow this kindness upon thee !

ALCESTIS

ADMETUS

Fain would'st thou, well I know But wherefore this?
It cannot be the dead to light should come

HERCULES

O'ershoot not thou the mark ; bear bravely all.

ADMETUS

Easier to exhort than suffer and be strong.

HERCULES

But what thy profit, though for aye thou moan ?

ADMETUS

I too know this ; yet love drives me distraught. 1080

HERCULES

Love for the lost—ay, that draws forth the tear.

ADMETUS

She hath undone me more than words can tell.

HERCULES

A good wife hast thou lost, who shall gainsay ?

ADMETUS

So that thy friend hath no more joy in life.

HERCULES

Time shall bring healing ; now is thy grief young.

ADMETUS

Time—time ?—O yea, if this thy Time be Death!

HERCULES

A young wife, new love-yearning, shall console thee.

ADMETUS

Hush !—what say'st thou ?—I could not think thereon !

HERCULES

How ?—wilt not wed, but widowed keep thy couch ?

ADMETUS

Lives not the woman that shall couch with me. 1090

HERCULES

Look'st thou that this shall profit aught the dead ?

ADMETUS

I needs must honour her where'er she be.

HERCULES

Good—good—yet this the world calls foolishness

ADMETUS

So be it, so thou call me bridegroom never.

HERCULES

I praise thee, in that leal thou art to her.

ADMETUS

I ?—false to her, though dead ?—may I die first !

HERCULES

Receive this woman then these halls within.

ADMETUS

Nay !—I implore thee by thy father Zeus !

HERCULES

Yet shalt thou err if thou do not this thing.

ADMETUS

Yet shall mine heart be tortured, if I do it.

1100

HERCULES

Yield thou : this grace may prove perchance a duty.

ADMETUS

O that in strife thou ne'er hadst won this maid !

HERCULES

Yet thy friend's victory is surely thine.

ADMETUS

Well said : yet let the woman hence depart.

HERCULES

Yea—if need be. First look well—need it be ?

HERCULES

I too know what I do, insisting thus.

ADMETUS

Have then thy will : thy pleasure is my pain.

HERCULES

Yet one day shalt thou praise me : only yield.

ADMETUS (to attendants)

Lead ye her, if mine halls must needs receive.

1110

HERCULES

Nay, to no servants' hands will I commit her.

ADMETUS

Thou lead her in then, if it seems thee good.

HERCULES

Nay, but in thine hands will I place her—thine.

ADMETUS

I will not touch her ! Open stand my doors.

HERCULES

Unto thy right hand only trust I her.

ADMETUS

King, thou dost force me, sore against my will !

HERCULES

Be strong : stretch forth thine hand and touch thy guest.

ADMETUS (turning his face away)

I do, as one who doth behead a Gorgon.

HERCULES

Hast her ?

ALCESTIS

HERCULES

Yea, guard her. Thou shalt call
The child of Zeus one day a noble guest. 1120

[Raises the veil, and discloses ALCESTIS.]

Look on her, if in aught she seems to thee
Like to thy wife. Step forth from grief to bliss.

ADMETUS

What shall I say?—Gods ! Marvel this unhopèd for !
My wife do I behold in very sooth,
O! doth some god-sent mockery-joy distract me ?

HERCULES

Not so ; but this thou seest is thy wife.

ADMETUS

What if this be some phantom from the shades ?

HERCULES

No ghost-upraiser hast thou ta'en for guest.

ADMETUS

How ?—whom I buried do I see—my wife ?

HERCULES

Doubt not : yet might'st thou well mistrust thy fortune. 1130

ADMETUS

As wife, as living, may I touch, address her ?

HERCULES

Speak to her : all thou didst desire thou hast.

ADMETUS

Oh dearest !—wife !—sweet face !—belovèd form !
Past hope I have thee ! Never I thought to see thee !

HERCULES

Thou hast : may no God of thy bliss be jealous.

ALCESTIS

ADMETUS

O scion nobly-born of Zeus most high,
Blessings on thee ! The Father who begat thee
Keep thee ! Thou only hast restored my fortunes.
How didst thou bring her from the shades to light ?

HERCULES

I closed in conflict with the Lord of Spirits. 1140

ADMETUS

Where, say'st thou, didst thou fight this fight with Death ?

HERCULES

From ambush by the tomb mine hands ensnared him

ADMETUS

Now wherefore speechless standeth thus my wife ?

HERCULES

'Tis not vouchsafed thee yet to hear her voice,
Ere to the Powers beneath the earth she be Unconsecrated, and the third day come
But lead her in, and, just man as thou art,
Henceforth, Admetus, reverence still the guest.
Farewell. But I must go, and work the work
Set by the king, the son of Sthenelus 1150

ADMETUS

Abide with us, a sharer of our hearth.

HERCULES

Hereafter this : now must I hasten on.

ADMETUS

O prosper thou, and come again in peace !

[Exit HERCULES.]

Through all my realm I publish to my folk
That, for these blessings, dances they array,
And that atonement-fumes from altars rise.

ALCESTIS

For now to happier days than those o'erpast
Have we attained. I own me blest indeed

CHORUS

O the works of the Gods—in manifold forms they reveal them :

Manifold things unhopèd-for the Gods to accomplishment bring.

1160

And the things that we looked for, the Gods deign
not to fulfil them ;

And the paths undiscerned of our eyes, the Gods
unseal them.

So fell this marvellous thing
